More action planned in Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE — Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Non-violent Action Committee, said that picketing of various centers in the town will end today (Friday).

Since Monday, high school students had been picketing in protest of continued racial segregation in places of public accommodation and of the segregated schools in the town.

During the demonstrations 18 students were arrested.

A mass meeting is scheduled Saturday to plan a drive to desegregate places of public accommodations.

Mrs. Richardson said that Cambridge is the county seat exempted itself from the provisions of the public accommodations law, which becomes effective Saturday.

Mrs. Ethel Day to retire; Coppin plans honor dinner

The Sheraton - Belvedere Hotel on Saturday evening, June 1, will be the setting of a dinner honoring Mrs. Ethel J. Day who retires as the administrative assistant of Coppin State Teachers College at the close of the 1962-63 academic year.

Mrs. Day who has been on the staff of the college for 41 years has served in her present capacity since the position was created in 1950 when Coppin became a state institution.

IN RECENT YEARS, she has received awards from many professional and civic organizations which have recognized her achievements.

Among these have been a certificate for over 40 years of work in the Grace Presbyterian Church of which she is a member and where she is superintendent of the Sunday School, and a citation from the Baltimore chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc.

The dinner on Saturday is being planned and arranged by the faculty social committee of Coppin State Teachers College. Mrs. Allie L. Clift is the chairman.

CORE pickets Gwynn Oak Park

Baltimore CORE began a four - day protest demonstration at Gwynn Oak Park, Thursday.

Termed "Operation Bill Moore", CORE is protesting the park's racial policy.

In a letter, CORE stated that "Gwynn Oak Park Amusement Park stands as a living example of the worst kind of (racial) discrimination."

Participating in the demonstration are the Civic Interest Group, Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance and the Nonviolent Action Group, of Washington.
