MUSICAL MOMENTS

'Whence We Came, Where We Are,' tells colored American's story

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Altho our performers have carved an enviable niche in American music, both past and current, in the creative area our representation is sparse, outside of the "popular" music field.

This may be due not to lack of talent, but to the fact that many of our musicians must devote the major portion of their energies to making a living rather than putting their musical dreams on paper.

Mark C. Statham, a most determined as well as talented young man, has taken the time. The results were seen and heard at the Lyric where he collaborated with David B. Williams, in the presentation of their joint effort, "Whence We Came and Where We Are".

Altho listed as an operetta, it was staged in the modern style, with the ballet providing action on the stage and soloists, chorus and orchestra in the pit.

The production is an account in six episodes of the colored American from his ancestral background in Africa to the present.

* * *

MR. STATHAM has a gift of melody, with the result that many of the themes are of the appealing style that linger in the ear. One of the bright spots of the evening mance by a 36-voice choir was the excellent performunder the highly capable direction of Clarence Henderson.

Mr. Statham seems influenced by idiom of the spirituals rather than by native African or ultra-modern patterns.

Jeannette Walters Earl Booker Jr. and Kenneth Lockett handled their solo assignments with confidence and appreciation.

The ballet was done by the Civic Modern Dancers, with Mildred Belcher and Aretha Mayo as choreographers.

The composer accompanied the entire production at the piano, assisted by James Hammond at a second instrument. Had the producers secured the cooperation of one of our well known local orchestral arrangers, the accompaniment in that area might have been highly affective.

* * *

CREDIT for the staging was given to Drs. Arthur Lamb and Waters Turpin.

To date Mr. Statham, who is a Hampton and Oberlin graduate, has written a fantasy for two pianos and two preludes for violin and piano. He is a teacher in the music department of the Baltimore schools. Mr. Williams, also a local teacher, is a Morgan College graduate.

It is to be hoped that this fruitful collaboration will continue, both in polishing and developing "Whence We Came" and in other productions. With the number of reputable summer workshops in drama and creative music writing there should be ample opportunity for furthering their creative talents.

AN AUDIENCE that included a number of standees attended the annual recital by National Federation of Student Musicians and the Cecelian Choral Club of St. Francis Academy, given in the school auditorium at Forrest and Chase Streets.

Under the inspiring direction of Sister Marie Infanta, the choristers gave well balanced and sensitive presentation of works by Monteverdi, Schutz, Handel and Schumann.

Following the piano peformances of standard study material and classics by Back, Mozart and Kabalevsky, Father Vincent Assing, S.S.J., convent chaplain, presented the certificates and pins to the local, district, state and national winners in the student auditions.

Special awards were given Laurice Allen, Tuana Burdnell, Ruth Waters, Clara Salas, Warine Richard and Ruth Wells and also to members of the choral club.

Pianists presented were: Delores Lloyd, Judy Lewis, Sharon McKinney, Beverly Warrine Richard, Shirley Turner, Ruth Wells, Willette Thomas, Betty Ann Jackson, Ruth Waters, Laurice Allen, Thompson and Clara Sales.

ADVANCED students of the members from the Piano Teachers Activities Group were presented in concert last Sunday at Coppin State Teachers College.

This was the closing event sponsored by the organization for this season, which has included recitals by the elementary and intermediate pupils, a Christmas recital and party and a workshop for parents, teachers and students.

The advanced program included works by Brahms, Beethoven, Haydn, Mozart, Grieg Tschaikousky, Rachmaninoff, Block and contemporary writers.

Performing were Linda Johnson, Edwina Harmon, Pamella Carroll, Carolyn Carr, Phillip Gaphers, Paulette Gibbs, Roslyn Sands, Linda Booth, Eugenia Anderson, Janet Graham, Louis Bond, Marilyn Graham, Albert Williams, Carla Brewington and Miss Loretta Glasper.

CALENDAR: Beginning Friday, May 31 and continuing thru June 2 in the concert hall of Peabody Conservatory, Mt. Vernon Place, the annual exhibition concerts. Among the soloists will be Lauretta Dorsey and Phyllis Harris.

Sunday, June 2 at 3 p.m. in Druid Hill Park, Grove 10, the opening concert of the Park Band season to be conducted by Charles E. Gwynn. The trombone section will play a special arrangement of "Trombone Blues" and the band vocalist will sing "When Day is Done". The concerts which are open to the public are arranged by the municipal Bureau of Music, J. I. Gray, acting superintendent.

Sunday, June 2 at 4 p.m. in the auditorium of First Baptist Church, 525 N. Caroline St., Mareda Gaither, Baltimore soprano now living in New York, will appear in concert under the sponsorship of the Civil Liberties of W. Sampson Brooks Temple, of the Elks. Jonathan Brice will be the accompanist.

"HUD," now at the Regent Theatre stars Paul Newman in the title role with Melvyn Douglas as his father and Brandon de Wilde as his nephew. Directed by Martin Ritt, "Hud" is a dramatic story of contemporary cattle - ranching filmed on location in the Texas Panhandle.

AT THE MET — Ian Fleming's famous Secret Agent 007 of fiction, known to millions as James Bond, comes to the screen for the first time in the person of Sean Connery in "Dr. No," United Artist' Technicolor release held over at the Met Theatre.

'Dr. No' at Met is full of action

Terence Young, director of the new United Artists picture, "Dr. No", held over at the Met, is inclined to feel that in creating the Mephistophelian torturer of his bizarre ad enture novel Ian Fleming has equalled the most diabolical imaginative fictional creations of the past and surpassed nearly all of them.

"Dr. No" has no compunction whatever about eliminating anyone who suggests the slightest possibility of intrusion on his own ghoulish objectives; and when traced by Bond (Sean Connery) and his lovely girl friend Honey (Ursula Andress) to his Caribbean hideaway he greets them with these words:

"You have both put me to a great deal of trouble. Now I intend to put you to a great deal of pain."

Miss Gaither in recital

Miss Mareda Gaither, native Baltimorean, graduate of the Julliard School of Music, will be presented in concert, Sunday, at First Baptist Church.

The Civil Liberties of W. Sampson Brooks Temple No. 682, I.B.P.O.E. of W. is presenting the concert.

Johnathan Brice will be accompanist.

Miss Gaither is currently a a member of the Rutgers Opera Workshop and is tdudying under the guidance of Miss Estelle Liebling.

She was granted a John Hay Whitney Opportunity Fellowship and has appeared in productions of "Showboat" and "Carmen Jones" with the New York Center Opera Company and in "Aida" with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Westinghouse to build plant in Towson in '64

The Westinghouse Electric Corporation will lease a new plant to be built north of Towson it was announced Wednesday by Buford M. Brown, president. The move is scheduled for early 1964.

The new facility will be located in the Greater Baltimore Industrial Park located at Shawan Road and the Harrisburg Expressway about five miles north of the Beltway and 31 miles, via the Beltway, from the Westinghouse Defense Center in Anne Arundel County.

Eventually the plant will employ about 600 in electronic equipment test activities as a support to the air arm and electronics divisions located near Frindship International Airport. This air-conditioned building will contain 100,000 square feet, about a third of which will be used for offices and laboratories.

'The Ugly American' on Harlem screen

With eye - stunning impact, the impassioned volcanb that burns under the surface of Asia errupts in passion, blood and flame with Marlon Brando presenting the tour de force of his career. Here at last, on the screen is the William J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick best-selling novel.

This is one for the Halls of Fame. "The Ugly American" now playing at the Harlem Theatre, is a Hollywood milestone high enough for all to see and be proud of, the perfect equaltion of story, star and director equal to the very tops in entertainment.

ALBANY, Ga. — Following brief ceremonies, two new Albany State College dormitories were opened for inspection. Davis Hall Annex will accommodate 90 coeds. McIntosh Annex, the other edifice, is a dormitory for men.

'Hud' now playing at Regent Theatre

Discriminating film - goers who complain about the lack of serious movie making in Hollywood are strongly advised to see Paul Newman in "Hud" which is now at the Regent Theatre.

Here is a film that has the dramatic power and impact of the finest domestic or foreign products. In fact, "Hud" and its cast are already considered to be serious contenders for next year's Academy Award presentations.

"Hud" was filmed on location in the Texas Panhandle and includes in its cast the entire population of Claude, Texas.

Mrs. Gloster claims $2,735 in alimony

Mrs. Betty Milton Gloster, formerly of Atlanta, Ga. and now of Chicago, has filed against John G. Gloster of this city in an effort to collect $2,735 in back alimony.

When divorced in 1958, Mr. Gloster, now remarried and the father of two children, agreed, under a stipulation, to pay the first Mrs. Gloster $85 per month for a term of seven years.

In her complaint, filed in Circuit Court No. 2, here, Mrs. Gloster says that no payment of the alimony has been made in the last three years.

Through her attorney, William H. Murphy, she asks that the local court assume jurisdiction in the cause and for enforcement of the Georgia Court decree.

* * *

THE FORMER Miss Milton and Mr. Gloster were married in 1951. When the divorce was granted he conveyed his half interest in their home on Engle Rd., Atlanta, to her, as well as the furnishings, with excepton of a Hi-Fidelity set. He also transferred his interest in an automobile and agreed to pay balances of $1,200 and $1,223.70 on two loans.

Mr. Gloster, son of Dr. and Mrs. Cecil Gloster of this city, is an analyst in the State Department's Bureau of Budget.

He was formerly assistant to the president of Morgan State College.
