LAST YEAR a major concern of the conference was the question of integration in the conference itself and the Methodist Church as a whole.

As a result the Rev. Jon Philip Iseminger was accepted into the conference and given a pastorial appointment in Bowie.

On Wednesday the AFRO interviewed the Rev. Mr. Iseminger, who has three churches in his charge with a membership of 177. This is how he feels after his frist year:

"My wife and I have been well received by everyone. Naturally there were adjustments to be made, both by us and the congregation.

"However, the fact that I'm white and my congregation colored, mattered little, for I was sent to them as a pastor and this was my primary interest. We have had our problems but never because of a color difference."

The churches in his charge are, Ross Methodist Church, Bowie; Dorsey Methodist Church, Glendale; and Ebenezer Methodist Church, Lanlam.

Police beat youngsters

By RAY ABRAMS

JACKSON, Miss. — Overt police brutality in the presence of three F.B.I. agents, stopped a non-violent demonstration here some 20 minutes after it had begun, Thursday.

A number of demonstrators and onlookers were arrested, some while on private property.

Carrol Miles, 15, was beaten down for no reason by a policeman who had climbed onto the porch of her house. When asked to put a call in for an ambulance, the police did nothing.

Her 17-year-old brother Tommy had just been pulled off the family porch, and dragged away by a local policeman who was holding the boy around the neck with a billie club.

Another patrolman was seen beating Tommy between his legs with a club as the youngster was led away to a converted garbage truck.

• • •

JOHN SALTER, a white Tougaloo sociology professor, was beaten into the dust a block away from where the the demonstration had started.

He was held by two helmeted policemen, while a third beat him on the head.

He was placed under arrest and dragged off to jail. He too had been on private property when attacked.

Professor Salter, whose participation in civil rights movements her have brought countless threats to his life, was bleeding from the head as he was taken away.

Tommy E. Miles and his sister Carrol live at 608 Rose St. It appeared that Carrol was beaten when she cried, "They got my brother." It was at that point that a policeman walked up to her and hit her across the head with a thick police club.

• • •

SAUNDRA BOOKER, a neighbor of the Miles, was also beaten by police. She is 17 year old. An ambulance was called for Carrol, but not not by the police. The 15-year-old was taken to a hospital as police began leaving the scene.

The word in Jackson is that the colored people are buying guns. The mood is one where people are saying "We have had enough."

What had begun as a peaceful demonstration from the Pearl St. AME Church some 82 students carrying small American flags had started down Rose St., was soon a scene of senseless beating.

The peaceful marchers were blocked between police before they had a chance to get more than block from th church.

It all began at 12:20 p.m. Two policemen jumped up in front of the students. Suddenly police appeared from every where. Deputy Chief J. L. Ray got out of a ar with a bullhorn.

"Everybody stop," he shouted. "This is a police order."

He then asked: "Does anyone in the group have a permit to parade?" When he got no answer, he continued: "Anyone who wants to disperse may do so. The others are under arrest. Anyone not on private property will be arrested."

At this point approximately 50 helmeted policemen appeared. People who had gathered to watch, began to yell at the police. The flags which had been carried were ripped from the hands of the demonstrators.

Some of the youngsters, seeing what was happening to their American flags, threw them onto the ground. As the trucks drove away, those arrested said "we shall overcome."

The brutality occured on the corner of Rose and Deer Park Sts. As the police began their arrests, the Rev. G. R. Houghton appeared on the church steps and urged the youngsters to get into his church.

He told reporters on the scene, including foreign newsman, to be sure to tell the world just what "happened."

"Some of our people are ready to shoot anywhere, the Rev. Mr. Houghton said. Then he turned to those around him and urged restraint and non-violence.

As the meetings were going on, final plans were made for the funeral services of Edgar W. Evers, NAACP field secretary in Mississippi, who had been ambushed the morning before.

Funeral services are scheduled for 11 a.m. here, Saturday. Burial will most likely take place in Arlington National Cemetery, Va.

DR. ROBERT C. WEAVER, Federal Housing and Home Finance administrator: "Discrimination in housing and public places and in education is degrading and insulting. But discrimination in employment robs a man of the daily bread for himself and his family."

Special Council session urged for housing bill

Councilman Walter T. Dixon (4th D.) urged both Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin and Thomas D'Alesandro 3rd, president of the City Council, to call a special session of the Council this summer to pass his open housing ordinance.

"Passage of pending ordinance No. 1 will advance neighborhood balance and contribute to a balanced enrollment in the public schools," Mr. Dixon wired the Mayor.

His open occupancy ordinace would make it unlawful with fine and/or jail sentences to discriminate in the rental, lease or sale of housing on a racial basis.

Mr. D'Alesandro told the AFRO he saw no reason at this time to call a special Council session to consider the ordinance.

THE COUNCIL adjourns Monday for a recess period until September.

Mrs. D'Alesandro said the ordinance is before at least two city agencies and several organizations have requested copies.

He said it would be unfair to act before they had sufficient time to study it.

"However, I have put the Council on notice," Mr. D'Alesandro stated. "I intend to envoke Rule 42, which calls for action on any ordinance in six months."

Mayor hints agreement with JFK

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, without saying so directly, agreed with President Kennedy's appeal for a national public accommodations law to cope with racial injustices.

The Mayor, taking note of the Cambridge disorders and seeing racial unrest here in his own Baltimore, had this to say Wednesday to the AFRO:

"As the record will clearly show, my personal life and my administrations as mayor and as governor have been conducted in accordance with the basic principle that all men and women should receive equal opportunities.

"I am working now, and have always worked, for the elimination of discriminatory practices based on race, color or creed, and I feel that the goals I share with so many other Americans can be obtained peacefully, working within the framework of the law.

"If, however, it develops that present laws will not accomplish what we desire, we must change or add to them accordingly."

THE COST OF LEGAL DEFENSE

IN ALABAMA, THE N.A.A.C.P. LEGAL DEFENSE FUND IS...

- Defending every one of the 2,497 Negro citizens jailed in Birmingham for peaceful protest against segregation;
- Appealing the convictions of Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. and 10 Negro ministers sentenced to jail for criminal contempt;
- Defending the freedom walkers arrested when they sought to complete slain postman William Moore's walk to Mississippi;
- Representing parents of Negro school children seeking desegregation of Alabama schools;
- Representing the four Negro students seeking admission to the all-white University of Alabama;
- Defending in federal courts the rights of the 1,100 Negro school children in Birmingham who were suspended from school for participating in demonstrations against segregation.

OUR DEFENSE OF THESE NEGRO CITIZENS CONSTITUTES THE MOST MASSIVE LEGAL OPERATION ever attempted in a single American city. We will persist in our defense of any Negro citizen who, through non-violent action, asserts his rights as an American.

THROUGHOUT THE SOUTH THE N.A.A.C.P. LEGAL DEFENSE FUND IS...

- Defending more than 3,000 students convicted of sitting-in and like demonstrations; the Fund has won important United States Supreme Court cases upholding the rights of these students, including the crucial decisions of May 20, 1963;
- Representing Negro plaintiffs in 60 every major southern city;
- Representing Negro plaintiffs who seek to use public facilities of all types — transportation, parks, libraries, auditoriums, hospitals, etc. — on a non-racial basis.

THE STRUGGLE IS OURS for if we fail to make our constitutional rights a reality in Birmingham, Mississippi, or anywhere in the south, every American Negro suffers in his efforts to become a first class citizen.

Legal cost in Birmingham and in more than 100 other cases will exceed ONE MILLION DOLLARS in 1963!

WE NEED YOUR FINANCIAL HELP

FOR FULL EQUALITY FOR NEGRO AMERICANS

The N.A.A.C.P. Legal Defense and Educational Fund has fought in the courts since 1940 to secure for Negro Americans the rights guaranteed them by the constitution and laws of the United States, but denied in practice.

Legal Action is Costly: A single law suit to secure the constitutional rights of emergencies may cost tens of thousands of dollars.

It took Fund lawyers 18 months of court action, at a cost of more than $43,000.00 to secure the admission of James Meredith to the University of Mississippi.

Legal action in defense of civil rights of Negroes must be financed by voluntary contributions of concerned citizens. The Fund budget must cover the cost of 95% of all civil rights litigation in the country.
