School-BURHA cooperate in new work-study project

The Baltimore City Public Schools and the Baltimore Urban Renewal and Housing Agency announced today the completion of the first phase of a jointly sponsored work-study program.

This was one small part of the total work-study program, but the only experience with a n i t h e r governmental agency.

The project had as its two-fold purpose the retention of potential school dropouts and the development of future supervisory personnel for the housing authorities' maintenance division.

FOUR ACADEMICALLY successful senior students of the Carver Vocational-Technical High School who were potential dropouts for economic reason only were chosen as initial trainees.

Two of the students are spray painters and two are carpenters. The young men worked in pairs following a work-one-week, study-one-week pattern.

Therefore, each partner of a team did one-half of a full time job. Each boy was assigned to work with an experienced craftsman and paid the prevailing wage. The experience was satisfactory.

BURHA supervisors recommended retention of two of the students as full time workers. The boys chosen were selected on the basis of maturity, attitude toward work and the ability to grasp practical techniques of the job.

THE STAFF of the agency as well as the staff of the Department of Education feels that the experience has been a successful one and plans are being made to extend the program during the next school year.

These boys were four of more than 40 students from Carver Vocational-Technical High school who were on work-study programs during the past school year. All of the other students were hired by private industry.

In addition to providing a regular income for deserving students while they are attending school, the work study study program has provided work experience for capable students while under school supervision and the supervision of the cooperating industries and agencies.

Pierians present dancer at dinner

With Lula Jones Garrett

The Pierians, who each year, close their nine-month program of study of and participation in the arts at a dinner party, held that affair in the Blue Room of the Sheraton - Belvedere Hotel, Friday evening.

Their artist on this occasion was Dancer Scarlett O'Hara, recently back from Merido Yucatan via Mexico City and Hollywood, where she has been preparing for a concert repertoire beginning next spring. Friday evening she gave a "pequeno" preview of the coming attraction . . . chiefly spanish dances.

Miss O'Hara performed during the cocktail hour which preceded dining. During the dinner there were orchids pinned on the out-going president, Pearl Brackett . . . on the in - coming president, Hazel Fleming; and on member Verniece Reynolds.

Other Pierians are Mesdames Gwendolyn Carter, who presided at the dinner session; Louise Lamb, Lydia Musenden, Jewel Moseley, Annette Johnson, Nesrine Clift, Mercedes Douglas, Hilda Higgins, Charlotte Mebane.

Senator Verda Welcome, Mesdames Vivian Washington, Ruth Welling, Catherine Wilson, Audrey Norris, Lula Patterson, and Edith Smith.

Their program this year included an Art Jamboree in September; an organizational meeting in October; "The Joy of Collecting" a lecture-demonstration with Mrs. Ann Bliss as speaker and the members bringing their antiques;

"The Visit" at the Vagabond Theatre in January; an evening with Dr. and Mrs. Martin Jenkins (and their art collection) in February; a performance of the Modern Dance Group of Morgan College under direction of Mrs. Dorothy Phelps Stanley in March; an evening of poetry in April and an evening of music with the Etude Octette in May.

Their guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames John de Cecilio, Charles Hicks, Frank Veney, Warren Weaver, James Murphy, Drs. and Mesdames Martin D. Jenkins, M. Ware, Evan A. Gilkes; Judge and Mrs. Josiah F. Henry Jr.;

Mesdames Lillian H. Ross, Dora Hutchinson, Robert B. O'Hara, Anethia Williams, Helena Edmonds, Mildred Goodmon, Kenneth Carter, Georgeanna Chester, Elizabeth Crudup;

FLOWERS FOR A LADY—Mrs. Margaret Mason, right, pins Miss Hermione E. Wharton with an orchid, at testimonial banquet in her honor on Monday evening at a downtown hotel. At left, another faculty member, Mrs. Joan Tillery, holds wrist watch. A television set and hi-fi radio-player, record player, were other gifts. Miss Wharton retired from Baltimore schools this month after 44 years, the last three as principal of Lemmel Junior High.

LT. AND MRS. WILLIAM BROWN at the altar in St. James Episcopal Church where they exchanged vows on Saturday. With them are their attendants. Miss Stephanie Laforest and Cephas Patterson, best man, of Norfolk, Va. The bride is the former Miss Jacqueline Finney. Following the wedding and reception a dinner party was held at the Me-De-So Club after which the couple left for New York.

Miss Finney bride of N. Y. architect

The beautiful altar of St. James Episcopal Church was never more beautiful than in its decor of all white flowers, Saturday.

And there has been no more radiant bride to kneel there than Jacqueline Edna Finney, as she exchanged vows with Lieutenant William Augustus Brown, at a four o'clock double - ring ceremony.

Father Robert A. Bennett officiated. William Parrott, minister of music at the church, was at the console. Mrs. Roslyn Catlin was soloist.

• • •

GIVEN IN marriage by her father, Dr. James Finney, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of tulle with appliques of Alencon lace, over taffeta.

Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a tiara of baby's breath.

She carried a nosegay of lilies of the valley and baby's breath centered with an orchid.

• • •

THE BRIDE'S single attendant was her step-sister, Miss Stephanie Laforest, whose ensemble included a street - length frock of rose silk shantung, with matching hat and shoes.

She carried a nosegay of pink baby carnations. Cecil Patterson of Norfolk, Va. was best man for Mr. Brown.

• • •

WHILE THE church was filled with guests for the ceremony, some 300 others joined them at a reception also at the church, given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Albert L. Laforest.

Mrs. Laforest wore a soft yellow, embroidered dress, with matching accessories and orchid corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore deep rose silk, with contrasting accessories and an orchid corsage.

Hostesses, who assisted at the reception were Mesdames Anethia Williams, Flozella Clark, Bryce Hamilton and Rosalie Kelly.

• • •

THE NEW Mrs. Brown, a recent honor graduate of Howard University, and her husband, an architect with Austin Architect and Engineer Firm, of New York City, are now in New York, where they will live. Mr. ended with cards.

Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Brown, also of this city.

• • •

ON WEDNEDAY evening, prior to her wedding, the then bride - elect was showered at a party given by Misses Maria and Veronica Clark at their Wheeler Avenue home.

Guests, with gifts of lingerie, were Patricia Rideout, Jill Collins, Laverne Lockwood, Sondra Banfield, Stephanie Laforest, Carolyn of Holland, Brenda Winckler and Cecelia Chatman.

A decor of yellow and green was carried out for the pretty and intimate party, at which the afternoon tea was served.

Iota Phi Lambdas mark Founder's Day

Kappa Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda celebrated the 22nd anniversary of the founding of the sorority with worship at the Emmanuel Christian Community Church, Sunday.

A provocative and timely sermon entitled "After the Whirlwind, What?" was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Sidney Daniels. The sermon keynoted the sorors purpose for rededication to the ideals of Iota and the theme of the day "Acceptance of the Challenge of the Sixties."

• • •

FOLLOWING the services, sorors gathered in the Community Center for a closed celebration.

Seven past presidents were honored along with the current president, Soror Isabel H. McConnell, for their continuous inspiration, assertive leadership and constant pursuit of Iota's ideals.

Crystal amulets containing the Bibical mustard seed denoting "faith" were awarded Sorors Emma H. Brown, Claudine Harden, Odessa T. Howard, Margaret Johnson, Isabel H. McConnell, Fannie B. Poulson, Mable C. Waters and Vivian W. Young.

• • •

THE GROUP congregated in the gay atmosphere of the Elegante room with their guests for dinner and delightful music.

Guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeLeaver; Mesdames. Corenna Wilson and Rachel Wise; Misses Renee Erwin and Janice Utley; James B. Bell, Charles Thomas, Harrison Tucker, Clarence Ball and Dr. Roland C. McConnell.

Sorors participating were: Mary B. Ames, Lois Boyd, Douglass, Mary Ervin, Bertha Green, Claudine Narden, Odessa T. Howard, Thelma Jiggetts.

Naomi B. Lee, Isabel H. McConnell, Louise N. Mitchell, Mildred Noel, Marian Ransome, Margaret Phelps, Fannie B. Poulson, Margaret M. Robinson.

Eloise E. Taylor, Mary Tucker, Mable C. Waters, Helen P. Weatherford, Anna W. Wilson and Vivian W. Young.
