6th District News, Views

By Madeline W. Murphy

It may be of interest to you, that the young African students living with us in Cherry Hill are highly educated and valued men in their country.

We often think of students as young men and women in their late teens going directly from high school into college. Many of these young men have been principals and teachers in schools, county councilmen and politically active in Nigeria and Kenya.

They are here to gain as much in their craft as possible. They range in age from 23 to 30. Some are married with families back home.

They have not been accustomed to hard manual labor, are not familiar with our ease in working under constant pressure and tension. Many have been here for merely five months to a year and have never encountered city and family life as we know it.

Oddly enough, they often have been snubbed, ignored and avoided by the colored American. A quotation from a letter received recently from an African student who left Baltimore, because working conditions were too strenuous, states: "You do not know how I admire you people, but one thing is that good people of your type are rare and that you will remain green in my memory."

• • •

THOSE addressed in this letter are the people in Cherry Hill who have opened their hearts and homes to young men who have never experienced the kindness of the colored American.

One such man, A. W. Crane has taxied them to and from work, interceded for them at work, has introduced them to other families, has had them speak to the Arundel Senior High and Junior High School 180 at the invitation of Mr. George A. Yorkman. He has accompanied them to an international cook-out, to a reception at the home of Claude Stith, gotten them free games at the Lafayette Bowling alley.

They have accompanied him on tours of farms and barracks at Ft. Meade, the residential areas of the city and the heart of the city. Mr. Crane has often been called the "Mayor of Cherry Hill," but I should like to rename him "Cherry Hill's ambassador of goodwill."

Mr. Crane, most importantly, has a cooperative, understanding and helpful wife, Ida, who has encouraged him and assisted him in finding housing for these young men.

• • •

OUR STORY would be incomplete if we did not mention Mrs. Johnson on Seagull Ave. and Mrs. Sarah Moore on Hillview Rd., who sympathized and helped and fed the young men, without thought of pay when they did not earn enough money.

As Nigeria became free in 1960 under Azikiwe, a graduate of Lincoln University; as Nkrumha also a graduate of Lincoln University freed Ghana; as Jomo Kenyatta has become very recently head of Kenya and a new Federated Kenya is in the making, these young men will also return to their countries offering their their abilities to these emerging African nations.

• • •

WITH THE world getting smaller each day, we can no longer excuse our ignorance of the location of these emerging nations of Africa, their leaders, the knowledge of their culture and customs. We are all one people — the black people — who shall be free.

If you are concerned about youth in a troubled world; about job opportunities; about juvenile delinquency, come to Cherry Hill Presbyterian Fellowship Hall on June 23, at 5 p.m. to hear Willard Rouse, chairman of the Baltimore Youth Commission.

Ask him your questions. Ask him what the commission can do to help our Cherry Hill youth.

Refreshments will be served.

YWCA summer program runs July 1-August 2

The Teen Age Department of the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA will conduct its summer program July 1 through August 2.

The highlight will be the Summer Lively Arts Workshop for teenagers 13 through 17 for five weeks, Monday through Thursday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The four arts emphasized will be art, music, drama and dance. "Carousel" will be the theme for the workshops.

The "grand finale" for all workshops will take place Friday, August 2 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium presented by the four workshops.

The humanities aspect as well as the practical will be emphasized this year as well as last year, for this is very much needed among teenagers of today.

Workshops will cover:

Dance — Ballet, Folk Dance, Rhythm, Interpretative

Music 8 Excerpts from Carousel, Piano Lesson, Appreciation of Master Composers.

DRAMA — Appreciation for Theatre, Thespian skills, great literature of the stage.

ART — Appreciation of the Masters, Sketching, Painting, Natural Crafts.

SCHOLARSHIPS have been made available for teens from the Teen - Age Program Committee of the Madison Avenue Branch, the PTA of School 139, the Teen Age Staff of the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, the Woman's Club of Douglass Memorial Church and senior Y-Teen's clubs.

A Drop In Sports and Games program will be featured every Monday and Wednesday at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA for all teens from 3 to 5 p.m. Games such as volley ball, bowling, table tennis will be included.

Tutoring Classes in Math and English are being held at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA. The tutors are students of Morgan State College. There is no fee.

Harkness inks pro cage pact

NEW YORK — Jerry Harkness, Loyola's All-American basketball star, Friday signed a $12,000 one-year contract with the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association, after rejecting an attractive offer to work and play for the Akron Goodyears, an independent American Athletic Union team.

The contract with the Knicks did not include the "no - cut" clause which Harkness had sought. Nevertheless, Jerry was reported to be pleased with the salary.

HARKNESS, a 6 - foot, 2-inch left - handed jump shot artist, led Loyola to the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship in March, in Louisville.

Loyola defeated Duke and Cincinnati in Louisville.

Jerry rallied the Ramblers in the final minutes to play in the title game against favored Cincinnati, after a miserable start.

Perkins regains Jr. welterweight title

MANILA, Philippines (ANP) — Eddie Perkins of Chicago last Saturday regained the world junior welterweight title he had lost to Italy's Duilio Loi last year by completely outclassing Roberto Cruz of the Philippines in their 15-round title bout before 20,000 ringsiders in Rizel Coliseum here.

The fight was one - sided with Pekins completely dominating the action. He floored Cruz in the first round and shook him up in the third, as he coasted to victory. Cruz was lustily booed by hometown fans at the end of the bout. Perkins left the ring with scarcely a mark.

Ashe survives NCAA net tests

BULLETIN

PRINCETON, N.J.—Arthur Ashe, tan candidate for an American Davis Cup berth, defeated Tom Edlefson of Southern California, to reach the semi-final round of the NCAA tennis championships. He qualified to meet Davis Cupper Dennis Ralston, the No. 1 college player of the nation, in Friday's match.

PRINCETON, N.J. — Arthur Ashe, 19 - year - old sophomore at UCLA and the lone tan hope in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tennis championships, reached the quarter-finals of the tourney on Wednesday.

Immediately at the close of the meet here Saturday, Ashe will board a jet for London where he is scheduled to meet Carlos Fernandez of Brazil in the opening round of the Wimbledon championships.

The former Richmond (Va.) schoolboy joined Mexican Davis Cup Ace Rafael Osuna and six other tophere in the select round of 8 survivors for the highest honor in collegiate net circles.

AS OF Thursday morning, Ashe, Osuna, Dennis Ralston and Tom Edlefson of Southern California; Dave Reed, Arthur's teammate at UCLA; Marty Reissen of Northwestern, Bill Lenoir of Arizona, and Butch Newman of Trinity University of Texas, were qualified to battle it out for the NCAA singles title.

There has never been a colored winner of the collegiate crown.

Ashe and teammate Charles Pasarell also were in the running for the doubles championship.

THE SLENDER Virginian, two-time American Tennis Association titlist though still a teenager, moved into the quarter-final bracket with a hard-fought victory over Clark Graebner of Northwestern University.

Graebner, the 1961 Wimbledon junior champion, pressed Ashe in the opening set, deucing it five times before succumbing by a margin of 11-9. He went diwn in the second and deciding set, 6-4.

IN EARLIER matches, Ashe whipped Harold German of Princeton, 6-1, 6-4; then blanked Jim Aikins of University of Washington, 6-0, 6-0.

The ATA protege teamed with Pasarell in the doubles to take the measure of German and Hugh Lynch of Princeton, 6-2, 6-2, on Monday. On Tuesday, Ashe and Pasarell eliminated Hal Lowe and Brian Flood of Michigan, 6-3, 6-3.

DOUG SYKES of California, the only other tan starter in the tourney, was ousted in his first round of singles play. He lost to Tony O'Donnell of Michign State, 6-1, 6-3.

On Tuesday, Sykes and Jim McManus scored an opening round doubles triumph, defeating John Heath and Jack Kamrath of Texas, 6-1, 6-2.

Principal of Forest Park denies Jefferson slight

Miss Dorothy M. Duval, principal of Forest Park High School, formally denied that a race issue was involved when athletic achievements accredited to Alex Jefferson were stricken from the school's June 9, commencement program.

Jefferson, winner of the "Athlete of the Year" award for his performance in football, basketball and track, was a member of the class graduated by Forest Park at exercises in Civic Center last Sunday.

• • •

HE AND his parents expressed disappointment when no mention was made of the honor during the commencement program. The elder Jeffersons addressed a letter to Miss Duval asking whether discrimination was being practiced in the omission of any reference to the award by their son.

Young Jefferson said he had been informed by Varsity Club president Elliott Hersh that Alex would be cited during the exercises.

• • •

IN A letter to Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson, Miss Duval reiterated her policy of confining athletic recognition to the athletic banquets, several of which are held at the school each year. The principal had previously given the AFRO the same explanation.

Following herewith is the text of Miss Duval's answer to the Jefferson family:

"To my knowledge there is not, nor has there ever been any discrimination as to race, color, or religion at Forest Park High School. We recognize our students as individuals, not as representatives of any ethnic or racial group.

"Students in the June commencement exercises recognized in scholastic and were academic fields, not in extra curricular areas which includes athletics.

• • •

"IN THE February Class of 1963, the boy who earned an award comparable to that which your son Alex received was a boy of Hebrew faith. The award was not announced at commencement exercises. Athletic awards of this type are given at an athletic assembly.

"In the same February class group, Gloria Taylor, a colored girl, received a medal for having the highest average in the class. You may recall seeing a photograph in the yearbook of the presentation at February commencement.

"The president of the Varsity Club (Elliott Hersh) is a student. He did not receive clearance from the principal relative to when and where any awards were to be made. This is an administrative matter, not one decided upon by students.

"BECAUSE YOU raised the question concerning the recognition of colored students, may I remind you that at the commencement exercises on June 9, recognition was given colored students along with others for academic achievement.

"I am sure you remember Barbara Quarles who received a medal and John Grimes who was recipient of three scholarships. These are just two recognitions announced at the exercises on Sunday night.

"Again, I repeat, that our students are treated as individual boys and girls and recognition that any of them receive depends entirely upon their individual achievements.

"Yours truly, Dorothy M. Duval."

Willie Mays: A Troubled Negro Idol

Wherever he goes, from San Francisco's nightclubs to the Giants Dugout, you'll hear Willie's tenor voice continually squeak: "Why make yourself out a bad fellow?" Friendly Mr. Mays, the finest ballplayer in the world, believes fervently that the best way he can help his race is to be popular with both sides. "Prejudice can work both ways," he comments in a special Post article this week. Now that his painful divorce and financial crisis are behind him, Willie plans to invest in interracial housing. Read about the ever-loving star who admits to shyness in the June 22 Post. Now on sale.
