Neighborhood planning unit ends sessions for summer

The Area Neighborhood Council Planning Committee of the Mount Royal - Fremont Urban Renewal area has closed its session for the summer after a three-month period of analyzing, planning and coordinating the efforts of its residents, businessmen, and absentee property owners in up - grading their community.

The monthly meetings of from the beautification, protection, education and conservation of community resources to participation in various public service programs.

In closing, the Council gave recognition to those neighborhoods which were exceptional in their efforts to aid the area in its fundamental aims. Included in the group were the residents of Oxford Street who in April of this year struggled profusely against overwhelming obstacles to improve their physical surroundings.

Miss Anna Bennett, temporary chairman of the council, has stated that residential reaction to the aims, purposes, and activities of the Council have been far above expectations with an average gathering of from 30 to 40 persons attending each meeting. The Council will reopen its session in September.

NAACP urged Demos not to come to Baltimore

Warning that its colored delegates would "experience great inconvenience and injustice" the Maryland NAACP Conference urged the Democratic National Committee not to consider Baltimore for its 1964 convention.

Before the Democrats decided to go to Atlantic City a number of Maryland and Baltimore officials had been trying to persuade the party brass that Baltimore would make a good site for the convention.

Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, NAACP conference president, said in telegrams to John M. Bailey, Democratic National committee chairman, and Louis Martin, deputy chairman, "Racially discriminatory practices in places of public accommodations result in daily humiliation of dark-skinned human beings.

"The State of Maryland has a limited, totally inadequate public accommodations law, which while applying to hotels, motels and exempts those places known as bars, taverns and cocktail lounges.

"Further, this law applies to only half of the counties of the state and Baltimore City, and does not include public recreational facilities such as barber shops."

The telegram also said that until Baltimore and Maryland accepts its responsibility to all citizens, they cannot hope to rank among those states and cities which merit favorable consideration by the committee.

Our Good Neighbor of the Week is charming Mrs. Josephine Brockman, of the 1600 block St. Stephens St., wife of William Henry Brockman a retired employee of the Davidson Transfer Company.

She is a native of South Carolina but has lived in Baltimore since the age of 7.

Mrs Brockman attended Schools Nos. 126, 106 and Douglass High.

With her family she is a member of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church and a member of the pastor's Aid, vice president of the Senior Choir No. 1 secretary of the Senior Missionaries, member of the Trustee Board and supervisor of the Daily Vacation Bible School. Our Neighbor is also secretary of the Faison Gospel Singers and a member of the flower Circle.

Mrs Brockman is godmother to tiny Weslene Shevaughn Nicholas and lives with her and is 4 years old.

Our Neighbor likes to sing "Oh Thou in whose presence my soul takes delight."

The verse from the bible that she likes is the 121st Psalm, her color is Blue and her hobbies are cooking (Which she does very well), sewing, driving her automobile and being with children.

LOOK TO THE FUTURE—These young Annapolis ladies are aspiring to become debutantes under the Delta Pi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority which plans a cotillion in November.

SELECTS AU PROF

ATLANTA, Ga. — Dr. Richard K. Barksdale, Professor of English, School of Arts and Sciences, Atlanta University, has been selected to attend the 1963 Summer Institute, "Humanistic Discussions in Sciences" to be held at the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, from June 17 - July 26.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

It seems that Delta Pi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is concentrating on big projects to come this year.

Foremost is the Fashionetta-Cotillion, which is planned for November. This entails an evening of fashion modeling, ballroom dancing, the presentation of debutantes and the crowning of "Miss Fashionetta in a coronation ceremony.

The idea itself will lend much to the younger set participating, in that it will revolve around the importance of keeping moral standards in a high bracket. It is also intended to stabilize the thoughts and actions of these young people for a growing and cultural future.

Activities which have been sponsored in initiating the project have included a Mother Daughter Luncheon, which was held at Treadway Maryland Inn.

This luncheon was planned to provide an opportunity for mothers and daughters to meet members of the sponsoring group, as well as to become oriented to the purpose of the Fashionetta Cotillion.

* * *

OTHER GUESTS attending the luncheon were Miss Jeanetta Walters, a senior at Peabody Conservatory, who captivated her audience with the rendition of two vocal selections, and Miss Diana Kane, founder and owner of the Kane School of Modeling in Baltimore. Miss Kane will conduct the training prodebutantes.

A bevy of girls, including prospective debutantes and sub - debutantes, assembled at the home Dr. Faye W. Allen, Arundel - on - the-Bay, on May 19 for a Chat-a-rama. This provided the first occasion for the two groups to get acquainted and to become more informed of their roles in the Fashionetta - Cotillion and the responsibilities involved.

Those girls in attendance, who are aspiring to become debutantes were Barbarlina Rose, Shirley Ann Herndon, Carolyn White, Mary Ann Hawkins, Jacqueline Wallace Cherry White, Betty Ann Queen, Gloria Howard, Marguerite Darden, Paulette Greene, Helen Williams;

Also Loretta Booth, Agnes Jackson, Jacquetine Cottman Cachita Farrar, Patricia Turner, Dorothy Woodland, Gloria Savoy, Barbara Briscoe, Paulette Queen, Rosalie Newman, Karen Evans, Gloria Diggs, Gwendolyn Hairston, Geraldine Warren, Joan Wallace and Twyla Nored.

Sub-debs present were Lydia Glenn, Patricia Herndon, Marcheta McManus, Linda Jacobs, Arthurline Bryant, Marsha Baden, Beverly Ann Carroll, Drucilla Dyson, Jolinda Brooks, Colette Carter, Nancy Johnson, Karen Chew, Ruth Jackson;

Also Laverne Washington, Fern Thompson, Jacqueline Marbury, Sue Gray, Mable Atlee, Treass Donver, Beverly Ann Hutton and Brenda Lindsay.

WHEN VIVIAN Oram Graham and Dr. James Edwin Fassett were married Saturday in Cambridge, several people from the Annapolis area were guests at the wedding.

Among those seen about were the James R. Webbs Jr., the Archie Cooks and the Charles Gibbses both of Arundel - on - the - Bay. Also seen were Dr. and Mrs. Theodore H. Johnson of Oyster Harbor and Mrs. William H. Richardson, Mr. Webb served as best man.

There is a saying "you cannot keep a good person down," — and certainly this applies to Frank B. Butler, retired educator of Maryland.

Although he has been retired some time, he is constantly sought to perform some duty relative to the life of the community. This is especially true in Anne Arundel County where he is given the title "dean of teachers."

Just recently the Annapolis Mayor appointed Mr. Butler to the Zoning Appeals Board, one of the important boards in the city now because of the extensive and expanding building program.

Some time ago he was appointed to the State Scholarship Board for a four-year term by the Governor.

AN APOLOGY: We apologize to Mrs. Herbert S. Hilliard for omitting information concerning her participation on the program of the wonderful testimonial occasion given in honor of Mrs. Madeline Williams Tate at Carvel Hall. Mrs. Hilliard played two beautiful piano numbers as interlude during the program. These numbers were Debussy's "Clair de Lune" and "Yesterday." These numbers gave warmth and atmosphere for those in attendance.

TWO DECADE MAN — Edward T. Waters (left) a member of the administrative staff in the Second Army Intelligence Office at Fort Meade, is presented a certificate of appreciation for his 20 years of government service by Col. T.
