Park Concert Band opens season at Lafayette Square

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Due to rain cancellation of the first program arranged this year for the Park Concert Band No. 2, the current season opened at Lafayette Square with Charles Bagley conducting.

The concert, which featured an international program was warmly appreciated by the large audience. Mexican, Latin and South American numbers, with their infectious rhythm, were especially appealing.

Soloist for the evening was Joseph Day, trumpeter, who gave a pleasing interpretation in "trumpeter's Lullaby".

The first community "Sing Along" of the season was led by Mr. Bagley, who announced that this feature will be a part of each concert by the band.

At the second concert held in Harlem Square, Charles Gwynn, who returned from a recent trip to Florida, was the conductor, with Mr. Bagley as baritone soloist.

HAZEL ELLERBE, Baltimore soprano, was soloist in a concert sponsored by the Senior Choir of Bethel AME Church on the annual Choir Day.

Miss Ellerbe attended Schools No. 130 and Douglass High School here before going to Philadelphia, where she continued her education.

Her vocal studies began there also where she sang with the Philadelphia Opera Workshop and on St. Matthews Church choir. On her return to Baltimore, Miss Ellerbe resumed musical studies at the Baltimore Institute of Musical Arts and at present is studying with Mrs. Baklor.

At her Sunday concert the singer presented a program of standard works, including Bach's "My Heart Ever Faithful", Gounod's "O Divine Redeemer" "Caro Selve" and an aria by Mascagni.

The voice has considerable range and a decidedly vibrant quality. When problems of intonation and pitch are solved, Miss Ellerbe's career should be a promising one.

Calvin Brooks at the piano proved to be a sympathetic accompanist. The choi which is directed by Mrs. Mary E. Robinson, hosted at an informal reception following the concert.

A RECITAL imaginatively planned and very well executed was given by students of Mrs. Annie Laurie Williams, in the Pullen Auditorium at Coppin State Teachers College.

Several selections with a decided modern influence, such as "Blue Mood" and "Desert Night" were well received.

Rhythmic appeal was well marked in the lively "Frolic" played by Matilda Taylor. In the "Fire Dance" by the modern Spanish composer, de Falla, Louis Bond created a mood of mounting excitement.

Laura Williams offered a Bach Three-Part Invention with ample technical facility and a well controlled interpretation of MacDowell's "Witches Dance".

The recital closed with a novel feature — the "Peer Gynt Suite" arranged for four hands, played by Laura and Wesley Williams, who alternated with Monica and Louis Bond. Master Bond was the narrator.

Others participating in and Linda Taggart, Wendy Nelson, Beverly Melton, James and George Taylor, Charles Smith, Antonio Mariano, Reva Burris, Mary E. Brown, Edwina Moorehead, Horsey and Saverne Hayes.

THE 16-VOICE Graduation Chorus, under the direction of William O. Myers, sang for the closing exersises at Montrose School for Girls. Their program included "Six-fold Amen", "Give Me Your Tired" and "I Love Life".

Prelude and postlude were played by Mr. Myers, who is a member of the faculty, of which Mrs. Mary E. Rowland is principal.

William Grant Still's new American opera "Nightway I, U.S.A." received its premier performance last month at Dr. Fabien Sevitzky's fourth Festival of Contemporary International Music at the University of Miami.

The event coincided with the composer's 68th birthday. Dr. Still appeared last in Miami in 1961 when the University of Miami Symphony Orchestra gave the first performance of his "The Peaceful Land", which won the prize in a nation-wide competition sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs and the Aeolian Music Foundation.

A trumpet solos and a number featuring the trombone section will be given at the concert which is dedicated to Druid Hill Park.

DELIA (MARTI STEVENS) has forgiven Rex (PAUL HARRIS). But he turns from her, knowing that he can never forgive himself, in a scene from "ALL NIGHT LONG," now playing at the Harlem.

Jazz background in Harlem's new film

"Hi there! I'd like to tell you about a great new movie I've just made called "All Night Long." This is really something new in film-making. It was produced and directed by Michael Relph and Basil Dearden, the same team that produced that other smash hit "Victim.".

"It's a dramatic story, tense and exciting, and it's set against a background of an all night jazz session, and that's where yours truly comes in.

"This is the first film to be angled at jazz fans for quite some time and when you go along you will see great names like Charles Mingus, Johnny Dankworth, Tubby Hayes, and many other top jazzmen — Bert Courtley, Keith Christie, Ray Dempsey, Allan Ganley, Barry Morgan, Kenny Napper, Colin Purbrook and Johnny Scott. Quite a line-up. . .but then, "All Night Long" now playing at the Harlem is quite a movie.

"So come along won't you and bring the gang."

'Dr. No' held over for the sixth week

Some of the most famous beauty spots in the West Indies provided striking pictorial undertones for the suspense-chocked activities of "Dr. NO," Technicolor adaptation of Ian Fleming's novel of the same name, produced by Harry Saltzman and Cubby Broccoli for United Artists release and in 6th Big Week at the Met Theatre.

"The spots given the film company for filming in Jamaica," said an executive of the local Tourist Board, "included some private estates and locations never before made available for the camera. In addition, the company made use of Dunn's River Falls, one of the world's famous natural beauty places, White River, Falmouth, the lovely foothills of the Blue Mountains, and the white beaches of the North Shore.

JAZZY BACKGROUND

'The Longest Day' is Regent's feature

Sitting in his oak-paneled office at Twentieth Century Fox in New York talking to newsmen about the herculean effort expended in bringing Cornelius Ryans book "The Longest Day" to the screen, Darryl F. Zanuck, the producer, summed up his problems in two sentences:

"General Eisenhower had both the men and the arms. I had to find mine for the film."

Find them he did, and, with miraculous results, restaged the vast and varied canvas of the events of June 6, 1944 when the Allies smashed ashore on the Normandy coast to conquer Nazi-occupied Europe.

"Since we were dealing with officers and men from the United States, Britain, France and Germany we had to have four sets of actors," Zanuck explained.

"We assembled an international cast of 42 star names and there were 167 speaking parts. But, of course, this is somewhat misleading when you consider in one scene alone, on Sword Beach, I used 2,000 men."

Sam Cooke's son drowns in pool

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. (ANP) —Rock 'n' roll singer Sam Cooke of Chicago last week became the second nationally famous entertainer whose family has been struck by death when his son drowned in the family swimming pool here.

His 18-month-old son, Vincent Cooke, tumbled into the pool's shallow end while playing and drowned before his mother, Mrs. Barbara Cooke, could reach him.

Mrs. Cooke sighted the boy floating in the pool and dived in fully clothed to pull him out. However, the boy had already drowned.

Soft Whiskey, explained.

Or, rather, partially explained. (To protect all our years of hard work, there are things about the distilling and blending of Soft Whiskey that we can't reveal.)

To begin with, Soft Whiskey is as whiskey a whiskey as any whiskey you can buy. But it's the first hard liquor that isn't "hard."

That means no "hard" edge to sting-bite-burn you. (One of the revealable ways we take off that "hard" edge is by doing some of our distilling in small batches, instead of the regular large batch method.)

It's a pleasure to drink this 86 proof whiskey straight—there's no heat in it to detract from your enjoyment. Just warmth. The flavor is rich, yet it swallows easy. In mixed drinks, it doesn't fight the mixer. It blends smoothly, yet doesn't lose itself.

To sum up: Soft Whiskey does anything "hard" liquor can do. It just does it softer.

Before you sample Calvert Extra, the Soft Whiskey, there's something you ought to keep in mind: you may never touch a drop of "hard" liquor again.
