Five face grand jury in two murder cases

In the central District Homicide Court Tuesday five men were ordered held without bail, for action of the grand jury on two separate murder charges.

Three of the men are accused of murdering Melvin Newby, a 29 year - old house painter, who was found in the basement at 2800 Fairmount Ave., on May 8.

The other two men are charged with the murder of Earl Watson, 28, 1500 block Lamont St., on May 14.

Mr. Watson, a bongo band leader, was allegedly knifed in front of a bar in the 1300 block N. Washington St., where he was working.

JUDGE JEROME Robinson disposed of the Newby case, after reading the statements of the defendants in which they stated that Mr. Newby was drinking at a party on May 7, next door to the house where his body was found.

The party was held in the apartment of one of the accused, Calvin Gentry, 37.

In one of the statements, Gentry was accused of having stabbed Mr. Newby during an argument.

Then with the help of the other two men, Samuel L. Anderson, 21, 2400 block W. Lombard St., and Raymond M. McKenzie, 20, 2500 block W. Fayette St., the dead man was carried to the basement of the adjoining vacant house, the statement relates.

He was found the next morning by a realty company employee on a routine check of the vacant property.

Blood stains reportedly led police from the basement to Gentry's home.

ACCUSED IN the murder of the bongo band leader are, Robert Harvell, 25, 1700 block N. Milton St. and Leroy Waters, 27, 1600 block Chatsworth St.

Assistant State's attorney Alfred O'Ferrall, from the statements of the defendants, said that Harvell said he stabbed Mr. Watson after they had argued in the tavern.

Waters's statement said he kept the rest of Mr. Watson's band members off with a broken beer bottle during the fight.

1 killed, 5 hurt as car strikes pole

A 22-year-old man was killed and five others injured Tuesday night when a car in which they were riding went out of control on the Baltimore National Pike near Chapel Gate Lane.

Dead on arrival at Sinai Hospital, treated for a laceration on his right leg and released.

Lewis Butler Jr., 20, 2200 block Westwood Ave., treated for lacerations of the face.

Miss Silvia Lee, 18, 1900 block Bonner Ave., treated for abrasions of the body at Lutheran Hospital.

Miss Brenda Butler, 17, 2200 block Westwood Ave., treated for a compound fracture of the left leg.

Miss Paulette Fouse, 16, 2100 block Herbert St., treated at Lutheran Hospital for a fractured collar bone.

A report on the accident states that the 1959 Pontiac convertible went out of control, swerved onto a grass island separating east and west lanes and struck the light pole. It was going east on the Pike.

Collins has been charged with manslaughter and excessive speeding. He is being held for a preliminary hearing to be set by the state's attorney, on bail of $1000.

Funeral services for Mr. Broadus will be held Saturday from the Kelson Funeral Home, at 1 p.m.

27 African envoys rap Sen. Ellender

Representatives of African states took issue with remarks recently made by Senator Ellender of Louisiana who declared colored persons are not fit for self-government and cited Liberia, Ethiopia and Haiti to buttress his contention.

In a statement issued after a meeting at the Liberian Embassy, spokesmen for the African countries asserted language used by Ellender in the television interview, was "needlessly offensive to our countries."

THE GROUP stated it could not ignore Senator Ellender's remarks nor could they be dismissed as the views of a private citizen in view of Ellender's position as a senior member of Congress and of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and his responsibility in the area of international dealings.

"It is a grave disservice for the cause of world peace and understanding for a person occupying a prominent place in the public life of a great nation to provoke a return to the archaic debate on whether ethnic differences can be held to justify a claim of superiority by one race over another," the group stated.

"That theory has been proved baseless and its revival is likely to be the source of incalculable mischief."

DECLARING that Ellender's statement was made as part of an attempt to show that citizens of colored descent everywhere, are incapable of managing their own affairs, the spokesmen said: "On behalf of our Governments, we reassert our faith that all men are born equal and have the inalienable right to live in dignity and freedom.

"We identify ourselves fully with those who are seeking to end racial inequities everywhere and we categorically deplore statements or actions — such as those made by Senator Ellender — which certainly give rise to misunderstanding among states."

Discrimination in city schools

Following are remarks delivered at Wednesday's School Board meeting by the Rev. Marion Bascom, speaking for the Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance:

Our basic distress grows out of the following:

1. Only one person with the rank of superintendent is colored.

2. Out of approximately 17 persons with the rank of "Director," none is colored. (The 3 colored Area Directors in the elementary division are subordinate to a "director" who is white.)

3. There is only one colored principal in addition to the 3 persons in the central office.

4. Out of approximately 39 subject supervisors in the secondary division, only 4 are colored.

5. There are no professional colored employees in the business office.

6. Only 2 colored persons serve above the rank of teacher in any secondary school that is integrated. None of these persons is a principal. There are no colored persons who are department heads, unit heads, vice - principals or principals in integrated secondary schools, in addition to 3 persons to whom a reference has been made.

7. Qualified colored persons are being by - passed for appointment to higher positions in predominantly white schools, in integrated schools and now, with the appointments of May 14 interpreted, in all - colored schools.

8. Colored persons with the required experience and qualifications for the vacant and adjoining positions of principal, supervisor, director, assistant superintendent and superintendent.

9. The Board of Superintendents appears to ignore the requirements of Section 6 of the Board of School Commissioners in making recommendations for promotion. They appear to use unauthorized criteria to justify the superiority of white candidates for promotion and overlook the application of proper criteria that would make more colored persons eligible for promotion.

10. White persons promoted to positions in all - colored schools are sent to new buildings exclusively, whereas the same vacancies exist in old and sometimes dilapidated buildings.

11. Colored persons who are promoted and reassigned are sent exclusively to all - colored schools, while whites are sent to all - colored schools, predominantly white schools, integrated schools and all-colored schools.

12. Superior academic preparation has become almost a "bar" to promotion for colored persons within the school system.

As these items were discussed with Dr. Brain and Dr. Jackson on June 4, the points that follow were made by them. Some were made by Dr. Brain and some by Dr. Jackson, but since neither took issue with the other we must assume that both were in agreement on all answers.

Dr. Jackson's statement to the press that appeared in THE SUN on Saturday, June 8, 1963, indicates the general tone of the conference and of the beliefs of the Board of Superintendents. The points were:

1. Colored persons generally are not as well qualified as white persons and this is due to their inferior backgrounds gained in segregated schools. Dr. Jackson's amplification of this point was, "I think it is a product of inferior education."

2. We know that some colored have earned doctoral degrees, but this isn't the only thing that we consider in making promotions.

3. The main deficiency of colored persons, particularly colored principals and vice - principals, is that they don't participate enough in community activities. The white persons who have been promoted are superior in this respect to all colored who were not promoted. The community work of Mr. Weiss was advanced as a strong point of his superiority.

4. The colored applicants for promotion don't do enough writing. Writing done by Mr. Weiss and Mr. Helm were indicated as being main points of advantage over colored persons who could be considered for the jobs to which the others were promoted.)

5. Colored persons haven't prepared themselves for promotions since they have felt that jobs would not be open to them.

6. A colored woman, Dr. Elaine Davis, is being passed - over for promotion because she has taken time out of absence (one ashbowel and the other maternity) and has thereby forfeited her position as a candidate for promotion.

We wish to make the following statements and pose the following questions to the Board of School Commissioners as a result of our conference with Dr. Brain and Dr. Jackson. (We refer to the immediately preceding section of this memorandum and are addressing ourselves to the points made by the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent by number.)

1. The acceptance by Dr. Brain of the opinion that colored have inferior education leads us to ask: Why should persons are considered to suffer from this handicap?

Many colored teachers are graduates of leading American colleges and universities, including Howard, Columbia, Boston, Temple, Pennsylvania, New York, State, Loyola and countless others.

There are the same institutions from which Dr. Brain, Mr. Shaw and others on the superintendent level received their degrees. Is it the general opinion of the Board of Superintendents that colored people from these schools are less qualified than the white persons who attended the same schools?

When teachers are hired aren't they all accepted as being qualified or not qualified - or are persons from colored schools given a "special qualification?"

If the qualification given at the time of their initial assignment is the same as is given to white teachers, why is this issue of inferior education raised when promotions are being considered?

Are all colored institutions labeled as inferior by the Board of Superintendents? Are Morgan, Hampton and Virginia State labeled as inferior when it determines which institutions are inferior and which persons graduating from them must forever labor under the handicap of inferiority?

Is the Board of Superintendents empowered to employ teachers from institutions that they consider inferior?

2. We take no special position with regard to colored people who have earned doctorates over and above others who are not qualified. We note that many whites, including all but two members of the Board of Superintendents, were promoted, by successive appointments without having earned doctorates.

However, at the same time we realize that the doctorate is a mark of academic distinction. Indeed it is the highest mark of degree possible, and as such it indicates that the holder has mastered the most rigorous academic training program ever devised by universities throughout the world and throughout history. It does prepare persons in specific areas of knowledge.

The point raised with regard to colored people with doctorates is that despite their high level of academic preparation, while with less preparation are being promoted to positions over them in the system.

Mr. Leroy Taylor and Mrs. Edyth Myers continue as Supervisors while more recently an appointee have been promoted to Supervisor.

2. Mr. William Hucksoll was promoted to the directorship of Vocational Education while Dr. Saul Pardue, who is "eminently qualified," remained a principal.

3. Dr. Herbert Stern was promoted to the Directorship of Guidance while Dr. William Lockwood remained a principal in a low salary category despite the fact that his rank at the time of the appointment exceeded that of Dr. Stern.

4. Dr. Kenneth Horvath was promoted to the directorship of Personnel while Dr. Elaine Davis remained a vice - principal.

5. Mr. Edward Grieftu was promoted to the principalship at Mergenthaler Vocational - Technical High School while Dr. Benjamin Whitten, also "eminently qualified" — we hear that it is common knowledge that he scored highest on the administrative and supervisory examination for promotion), remained a vice - principal at Carver and still remains a vice - principal.

6. Mr. Frank Eisminger was promoted to supervisor of vocational education while Mr. Henry Johnson remained a Department Head at Carver. An interesting observation is that Mr. Eisminger was promoted from a guidance assignment of lower rank than Mr. Johnson's. With the recent promotion of Mr. Johnson, Dr. Eisminger remains several steps higher in status and salary than Mr. Johnson.

7. Mr. Sidney Chernak was named Director of Junior and Senior High Schools while Dr. Saul Pardue remains principal.

8. Dr. David W. Lockwood and Dr. Whitten remain at positions which are lower in rank and status than any of the six principals who were promoted on May 14, and in previous promotions to principalships in the secondary division. Their service in administrative positions is longer than some of those promoted to principalships.

9. At the time both received doctorates from the same institution, Dr. Robert Lloyd was named a special assistant in the superintendent's office while Dr. Lockwood was assigned as a special assistant at Dunbar High School—a position much lower in status and salary.

The foregoing is only a partial list of the inequities throughout recent years that have been a source of frustration to the entire colored community. Not only has Negro ability been unrecognized at the top level, but also colored persons have not been able to develop abilities at the minor assignment level with a view toward growth and development worthy of major assignments. If recently qualified colored persons remain at minor posts then others have also no room for development and NO HOPE.

We challenge the Board of School Commissioners to review these aforementioned assignments and to interview the persons mentioned with a view toward assessing their worth in light of the qualifications listed above. WE CALL UPON THE BOARD TO ACT IMMEDIATELY TO REMEDY THESE WRONGS AND TO REJECT THE NEW APPOINTMENTS AND TO REASSESS THE QUALIFICATIONS OF THOSE WHO ARE ELIGIBLE FOR PROMOTION. We believe that you will be enlightened immeasurably by such an experience.

Drew Pearson, JET and our wayward press

COMIC-STRIP page columnist, Drew Pearson, credited Commissioner John Duncan for the orderliness and peaceful nature of the June 14th mass demonstration in Washington, giving much credit for the absence of police dogs, fire hoses and no violence.

Duncan is supposed to have called in the leaders of the demonstration and asked them to guarantee that it would be non-violent and orderly and peaceful.

Duncan had absolutely nothing to do with police plans, made no suggestions to the police, nor did the leaders of the march pay any attention to him.

What really happened was this: Deputy Police Chief Waldrodt was placed in charge. Known among many colored leaders in the District for his fair-mindedness, the leaders knew immediately that there would be no problems with the police. Furthermore, friends of the colored community like Inspectors Causey and Mowry were given prominent roles in handling the crowds and the police.

SECONDLY, the pattern of police-demonstrators cooperation had already been established on Sunday, May 12th when 500 demonstrators marched from Shiloh Baptist Church to the White House to protest Birmingham. There wasn't a single incident then and a pattern was quickly established for racial demonstrations in D.C.

THIRDLY, Julius Hobson, Rev. Walter Fauntroy, Rev. Edward Hailes and Bishop Smallwood Hailes had consulted together on their own — without even thinking about Commissioner Duncan — and had decided that the nation's capital would have one of the most orderly demonstrations in America.

And it was — despite Drew Pearson's erroneous imputation of credit.

JET claimed last week that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy had called in a group of colored reporters concerning a possible publication of a story concerning a school where his kids were attending. JET claimed that the A.G. had asked the reporters not to print the story, but that you could only read it in JET.

The Attorney General did meet with a group of colored reporters and JET was not included. None of it related to the A.G.'s children registering for an all-white school, however.

'Revolutionary assault' called for by Nkrumah

President Kwame Nukrumah of Ghana said "a bold and revolutionary assault must be made on the race problem in America of the problem here is to be solved anytime soon.

He made the observation in a speech before the National Assembly on the ratification of the Charter of the Organization of African Unity, which was adopted at the recent Addis Ababa Conference.

Mr. Nkrumah linked racism and colonialism in Africa with the color problem in America, calling racism a bolt on the conscience of mankind" and a threat to world peace.

"IT IS in the same context that one has to consider the problem of racial discrimination in the United States," he said.

"Although the efforts now being made by the government of the United States to bring about a solution to this long - standing problem in America are appreciated, it must be stated that nothing except a bold and revolutionary assault on this moral obloquy and this grave crisis of racial confidence in the United States can bring about a speedy solution."

He added, "The Afro American has been taught to appreciate the dignity of the individual, living as he does in one of the most technically advanced countries of our time.

"And yet at the same time, he is being denied what is his essential and inalienable right.

The Afro-American did not choose to go to the new world. He was dragged into America to help establish the economy of that country.

"This he has done with great credit, distinguishing himself in all fields of human endeavor, in music, law, diplomacy, art, science and education. He has achieved great distinction for America.

"The United States has, therefore, a moral duty to accept the essential humanity of the Afro-American."

Will watch scales of justice Mrs. Evers says of jailing

JACKSON, Miss (ANP) — The widow of Medgar Evers refused to comment last week on the arrest of a race-hating salesman from Greenwood as a suspect in the killing of her husband.

Mrs. Evers said she had "mixed emotions" about the arrest.

"I don't have any statement, she said. "I'm just waiting to see what is going to happen, what form of justice will take place. As things proved baseless and its revival is likely to be the source of incalculable mischief."

DECLARING that Ellender's statement was made as part of an attempt to show that citizens of colored descent everywhere, are incapable of managing their own affairs, the spokesmen said: "On behalf of our Governments, we reassert our faith that all men are born equal and have the inalienable right to live in dignity and freedom.

"We identify ourselves fully with those who are seeking to end racial inequities everywhere and we categorically deplore statements or actions — such as those made by Senator Ellender — which certainly give rise to misunderstanding among states."

BYRON DE LA BECKWITH, known as an outspoken white supremacist, was charged with murder in the ambush slaying of Evers outside his home shortly after midnight June 12. The murder brought intensive investigation and increased racial tensions here.
