BALTIMORE AFTER DARK

"On the TOWN"

with the Pub Crawler

Hey there, it's been quite a spell since the Crawler has been able to run down the happenings in our town and surrounding villages and hamlets.

But with such things as Cambridge, Gwynn Oak, Riverside, vacations and the like, well, you know how 'tis.

Needlessly to say, there isn't much going on inside these brights and darks. Even the tall cool ones and air conditioning haven't been able to cope with the lure of the sun and fun season which beckons all to head for the great out-of-doors.

While a few victims of insomnia still find it difficult to hit the sack before dropping into their favorite haunts, the bulk of the gay souls are pursuing the charms of resorts and haunts, the bulk of the gay souls are pursuing the charms of resorts and beaches.

KLEECO, Maceo's, Jones' Cocktail Lounge, Dotson's (with its "down-on-the-farm atmosphere" still holding its magic), Red Fox, Knotty Pine and Eastside are indoor hideouts where an appreciable number of funlovers are unable to resist.

Chandler Wynn's Carr's Beach, a longtime favorite at water's edge in the state's capital, is bringing in some of the bigger lites from the entertainment heaven.

Last week it was the Soul Brother himself, Ray Charles. At centerstage Sunday will be Sam Cooke and his entourage.

However, the most unique and attractive summertime mecca is found in the rolling hills of Howard County, just 20 miles west of our town and a similar distance from the Nation's Capital. It's the Glenwood Country, a co-op venture, destined to become the most exciting play center in this region.

Headed by a board of directors including the most prominent citizens of Baltimore and Washington, Glenwood offers "exclusive but inexpensive" recreation, relaxation and out-door pleasure at its best.

GOLFING, horseback riding, dancing, swimming, softball, badminton, bicycle riding, hiking, hayrides, and tennis are all available in a setting that delights the spirit of all from eight to eighty.

Its day camp for youngsters is a smash hit which affords city dwellers a chance to spend an unforgettable summer in the country.

The recreation and swimming programs are under the direction of certified specialists—Clayton Bywaters Cecil Cooper — who heads such programs in city and county schools.

On tap this Sunday is a tennis match between former collegians of Baltimore and Washington which promises sure excitement for lovers of the net and racquet.

The spacious and charming dining room is the site of the most delectable foods served in these parts.

For details on how you too can enjoy the unique offerings of this unusual mecca, dial 442-2278. That's your key to a long, hot, and memorable summer!

Mrs. Beatrice Chambers gets divorce; she was second wife

Mrs. Beatrice Nimmins Chambers of 3449 Dolfield Ave., city school teacher, has ended her marriage to Perry Raphael Chambers, organist, on the grounds that he was married when he went through a ceremony with her.

The wife testified that Mr. Chambers married her under the name of Perry Chambers on Sept. 22, 1958. He had, she said, married Miss Helen Smith under the name of Raphael Chambers on Jan. 31, 1946, and that marriage had not ended, either by divorce or annulment.

The complainant said that she left Mr. Chambers on April 19, this year, after confirming the situation.

"I heard about the former marriage the first part of the year, but I didn't believe it," said Mrs. Chambers. "I went to my lawyer to see if he could check."

In the meantime, said Mrs. Chambers, another attorney came to their home to see Mr. Chambers. Their conversation was to the effect that her husband wanted to get a divorce from his first wife, she said.

It was after this that she discontinued living with him, she said. They are parents of a daughter whose custody was given to the mother.

WILLIAM WATKINS of 3204 Grantley Rd. and Mrs. Sylvia Watkins of 534 N. Carrollton Ave. were divorced, this week, on grounds of common consent.

The couple was married on April 22, 1949 and separated on August 3, 1957. He testified that he and Mrs. Watkins couldn't get along and that their disagreements disturbed the children, so they decided to separate.

The children will remain in custody of their mother, and Mr. Watkins will provide $50 per week for their support.

WILLIAM BRISTOL divorced Mrs. Elizabeth Bristol on grounds of voluntary separation, this week.

The husband, who lives at 2411 Montebello Ter., said that he and his wife were married on October 16, 1930 and separated on April 1, 1961. Mrs. Bristol's address was given as 2417 College Ave.

Grambling star on U.S. five touring S. America

MIAMI, Fla. — A 14-man U. S. basketball squad, headed by Hershell West of Grambling College, flew to South America Saturday on a "goodwill tour" sponsored jointly by the Department of State and the AAU.

The tour ends Aug. 11.

West is making his second junket to Latin America. Last summer he and seven teammates from Grambling were part of a 14-man American squad that spent six weeks in South America.

Cagers will play and conduct clinics in Bolivia, Argentina, Equador and Colombia.

TOP STARS in addition to West include Ken Saylors, Arkansas Poly, and Cecil Tuttle, Georgetown College, Ky.

West is a near-legendary figure around Gambling.

As a senior the 6-3 forward scored 856 points with unerring career total to 2,660 points.

ROUNDING out the team are Sidro Garcia, St. Joseph College, Albuquerque, N. M.; Paul Plowden, Oklahoma Baptist, Shawnee; James Boutin, Lewis and Clark, Portland, Ore.; Dennis Edwards, Parson College Fairfield, Iowa; Thomas Lavelle, West Carolina; and Romeo Vallejas, and James McGurk, Pan American, Edinburgh, Tex.

SUNFLOWER BAITBOX

If you'll check out sunflowers later on in the season, you'll find an inch -long light - colored worm inside the seed part.

Good bait for bream and other panfish.

WILLIE MAYS
HIS LONELINESS AND FULFILLMENT
Despite great stature and high salary, Willie Mays is not a happy man. The reasons for his unhappiness, too deep to be offset by baseball success, are thoughtfully examined in the August issue of SPORT magazine, now on sale. Read WILLIE MAYS—HIS LONELINESS AND FULFILLMENT. It's the most startling and sensitive portrayal of Mays ever written. In the same issue don't miss THERE'S NO ROOM FOR MERCY IN BOXING, an exclusive interview with Davey Moore written a few days before his tragic death. PLUS—WHAT ABOUT THE JOHNNY UNITAS RUMORS? ALL-STAR PITCHERS—Lefthander Juan Pazarro of the Chicago White Sox (left) and righty Jim Grant of the Cleveland Indians, were named to the pitching staff of the American League squad for the major League All-Star game set for Cleveland, Tuesday. It is the first Classic appearance for both.

UP AND OUT — Sugar Ray Robinson tried a left hook in the seventh stanza of his 10-rounder with Joey Giardello and missed as Joey bulled into him for a clinch. Note the swelling under Sugar Ray's eye which is evidence of the early thrashing it took from his Philadelphia foe as he lost a decision.

Philly fans may have seen Sugar Ray's finale

Sugar Ray Robinson, now 43 years old, departed from the Quaker City last week still undecided about retiring from the ring.

Robbie, who once ruled the roost of welter and middleweight fighters, lost a 10 -round bout to Philadelphia's Joey Giardello at Convention Hall last Monday, although he showed a flash of his old form in the final three rounds.

He won the cheers of the fans, who still insist he can beat most of the boys in his weight class, but lost the decision to a guy who couldn't carry his gloves in Sugar Ray's heyday. He is the victim of the lure of the ring game which often leaves its participants unaware of the time to call it quits.

ROBINSON SAID he was considering "very seriously" of retiring but he would make no positive prediction, and the guests here is that he will be back if the price is right. He added that he would make up his mind within a few days.

"If I do retire, it will be because of business ventures which will be consumated soon," Robinson said.

Business ventures are important to Robinson now, as he is having financial troubles.

He disclosed Tuesday that the Federal Government had held up his purse from the Giardello fight "for reasons I don't know." His estimated share was $14,500.

After this revelation, Robinson hurried off to New York City to consult lawyers about his delayed pay for the Giardello fight — ART CARTER.

Eastern waters set big lure for fishing folk

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — The seasonable temperatures of the past two weeks have stimulated fishing according to the Department of Tidewater Fisheries of Maryland.

The hottest spot is the Middle Bay area where large numbers of rock from two pounds to 24 pounds are being taken.

In the Northeast River and the Susquehanna Flats, fair catches of catfish are being reported by bottom fishing with shrimp. In Middle River, a few largemouth black bass are being taken casting spinners and plubs.

IN THE MAGOTHY and Severn Rivers, good size white and yellow perch are plentiful when bottom fishing with clam snouts.

Around the Bay Bridge, a pan size rock are being taken trolling bucktails and casting plugs, while good numbers of white perch are being taken bottom fishing with clam snouts and bloodworms.

FROM HACKETT'S Point to Bloody Point, in and around the Ship Channel, the area is teeming with rock from 12 inches to 25 pounds.

These fish are being taken trolling bucktails and spoons on the bottom and casting plugs on the surface; catches are running from 20 to 100 a boat.

Comptroller Louis Goldstein was fishing in this area and reported that he caught eight "stripers," the largest going 13 pounds.

AT HERING Bay, good catches of white perch are being taken bottom fishing with bloodworms. In the mouth of the Patuxent River, good numbers of blues up to two pounds are being taken trolling bucktails.

In the mouth of the Potomac and all of the tributaries, large catches of white perch are being taken bottom fishing with clam snouts.

IN THE EASTERN Shore area, around Love Point and in the Chester River, good catches of white and yellow perch of large size are being taken bottom fishing with clam snouts.

In Eastern Bay, roll ign bucktails and spoons is producing fair catches of rock from one and a half to six pounds, while at Tilghman Point, in Eastern Bay, good numbers of pan size rock are being taken trolling bucktails.
