'Fraudulent' charges made in two suits

Two suits — one to set aside a "fraudulent and usurious mortgage", the other to void a "usurious loan" — were filed Thursday in the Circuit Court of Baltimore City.

Oakley H. Saunders and Mrs. Beatrice E. Saunders, his wife, 1003 W. 43rd St., are asking the Court to release them from a mortgage now in the hands of Allied Building Credits, 1114 Mondawmin Concourse, defendant.

According to the filed papers, Allied secured the mortgage from Globe Home Improvement Co., Inc., 2012 N. Charles St., also a defendant in the action.

What had begun as a home improvement loan of $3,999 in August of 1963 soon totaled $6,224.40 and included liens on properties which the Saunders claim they had never put up as collateral.

THE PLAINTIFFS in the second suit are Earl C. Jones and Dorothy E. Jones, 803 Richwood Ave., who claim that a loan of $1,243.40 multiplied into a debt of $2,420.21.

They are suing Barry I. Robinson, trustee, 1410 Court Square Building and Security Industrial Loan Association of Maryland, Inc., whose resident agent is also at 1410 Court Square Building.

Washington faculty members in Ohio

Mrs. Ella P. Moran, coordinator of practical nursing, M.M. Washington Vocational High School, is attending a two-day symposium in Cleveland, Ohio sponsored by the National Association for Practical Nurse Education and Service (NAPNES).

The meeting brings together directors of schools of practical nursing accredited by NAPNES.

The object of the Cleveland symposium is to improve and enrich the quality of educational programs which prepare licensed practical nurses for the bedside care of patients.

Mrs. Moran, coordinator; D. I. Miller, principal and A. H. Barnes, instructor, are participating in discussions upon the pressing issues and challenges of practical nurse education.

The M.M. Washington Vocational High School was founded in September, 1943. Today it graduates approximately 1,522 practical nurses each year.

Seek friendship, Bennett group told

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Bennett College students were urged to cultivate the art of receiving as well as the art of generous giving by Dr. Kenneth I. Brown, of St. Louis, Mo., at the last week's assembly.

Dr. Brown, former executive director of the Danforth Foundation, also urged the students to seek out new friends from all cultures, age groups and walks of life if they are to have a full life.

"What is the center of your life?" he asked. "I think that it should be friendship — the kind the requires creative time and thought and loving care."

Kalamazoo riot led by Job Corps group

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UPI)—More than 100 youths led by trainees at a nearby Job Corps center rampaged through downtown Kalamazoo last Friday night, fighting policemen, smashing store windows and looting.

One policeman was hospitalized after being knocked to the ground and apparently trampled. Two other officers were hurt. Witnesses said youths smashed policemen with bottles and tried to stab one.

About 100 policemen helped by citizen volunteers battled the youths and finally broke up the melee after the mob tore through seven downtown blocks from a school where the fight erupted at a dance to which the job corpsmen were invited.

THE BATTLE broke out only a few hours after R. Sargent Shriver, director of the federal anti-poverty program, dedicated the nearby Fort Custer Job Corps Center and called it a place where youths could attain "human dignity and a change to improve their lot."

Police jailed 12 youths Saturday including 11 from the Fort Custer Center. A total of 15 injuries were reported including the three policemen.

Police said they recovered rings, tie clips and other jewelry from the youths, all taken from stores.

ESTIMATES varied on the number of youths involved and what percentage were from the Job Corps center. But police and witnesses at the school dance said job corpsmen started the melee and led the destructive downtown parade. Police said the riot apparently had no racial overtones.

John F. Borum, director of tre center, said no more than 30 Job Corps youths participated in the rampage although 96 were in Kalamazoo last night.

College cage series to open with bonus for youngsters

Thousands of Baltimore youngsters under 16 years of age will receive free tickets to see one of the country's outstanding college basketball twin bills on Kids' Night when the series of College basketball double headers opens December 9, at the Civic Center, with Toledo vs. Temple and Navy vs. Oregon State.

According to Ben Roth, president of Championship Sports, which sponsors the contests, merchants in the greater Baltimore area are being asked to distribute special ticket vouchers to their customers and friends, which can be excranged by youngsters under 16 for free seats on Kids' Night.

The vouchers can be exchanged up to 48 hours prior to game time for a ticket in any price category.

AS AN additional highlight of the Kids' Night program, many prizes will be distributed to lucky youngsters, including bicycles, puppies and basketballs which will be autographed on the spot.

Other games scheduled in the series include:

December 16th —Towson State vs. Western Maryland; Mt. St. Mary's vs. Evansville

January 6th —Washington College vs. Western Maryland; Loyola vs. Mt. St. Mary's

February 17th—Mt. St. Mary's vs. American University; Loyola vs. Seton Hall.

Laney starts fast to cop grid title

AUGUSTA, Ga. — Lucy Laney Wildcats broke loose for 19 first half points and coasted to a 25 - 13 decision over the Tomkins High Wolverines in a Region 2 - B contest, Friday.

The win gave the Wildcats the Region title and an undefeated season. Coach David Dupree's charges ended the 1965 campaign with an 8-0-1 slate.

Quarterback Julian Jones got the region champs off to a fast start with a seven-yard, scoring serial to Butler Johnson. Before the half, the Wildcats had pulled out two more touchdowns by John Sturgis and Joseph Bing both on passes from the accurate Julian Jones.

Bitter Clipper rivalry to open on Center ice

Two of the American Hockey League's hottest rivals start another year of hostilities tonight (Friday) as the Baltimore Clippers and Hershey Bears get together at Civic Center for the first time this winter.

The same clubs meet again tomorrow (Saturday) night at the Sports Centre in Hershey, and on Sunday night the Clips invade the Rhode Island Auditorium for a match with the Providence Reds.

Obviously, these three games with their closest Eastern Division foes are of uppermost importance to coach Johnny Crawford's skaters and he hope they can come up with a job somewhere between the great showing against Quebec here last Friday and the miserable performance displayed Tuesday in bowing to a dull Springfield club, 2-1.

THE CLIPPERS and the Hershey Bears have met 27 times in 3 years with Baltimore enjoying a slim 13-11-3 regular season edge. But when it comes to painting the post - season playoff picture that's another story.

Baltimore has made the Calder Cup series twice in its three years of play, but on both occasions it was Hershey which eliminated them, 2-1 the first year and 3-2 last winter.

LBJ issues proclamation

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) —President Johnson Friday formally proclaimed Nov. 25 as Thanksgiving Day for a well-fed nation "rich and strong in the cause of liberty and justice."

The traditional presidential proclamation, issued by the Texas White House, stressed the nation's social and economic development and its quest for peace more than the "abundant harvest."

The nation's real blessings, Johnson said, are its belief in the dignity of man, the search for a better world for all and "the courage — as shown by ours sons in Vietnam today—to defend the cause of freedom . . ."

"For all the blessings that have been bestowed upon our nation during the past 12 months, it is a small thing to give thanks to almighty God," the president said.
