Which was first to make headlines in England: The London Times or Gordon's?

Alexander Gordon got out his first edition 9 years before the Times. In 1769, to be precise. The delicately flavoured, delectably dry gin that made headlines then, is still big news in England. It's still biggest seller there. And here. In fact, worldwide. Why not indulge yourself in the pleasures of a proper 18th-century English day? If you missed the London Times this morning, there's still time for Gordon's tonight.

Egg nog pie quick dessert

In the quest for quick desserts, conventions needn't be neglected, merely updated with convenience foods. In this recipe, the making's modern, thanks to an ever-ready, always - available canned egg nog. Mixed fruits and peels, scattered throughout, impart a confetti-like look that crowns with glory any party or company meal.

EGG NOG PIE
(makes one 9 - inch pie)

1 (9 - inch) baked pastry shell
¼ cup white rum
½ cup cut mixed fruits and peels
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatine
1-½ cups canned egg nog
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
1/3 cup heavy cream, whipped
Candied fruit, optional

Prepare pastry shell; cool thoroughly. In a mixing bowl, combine rum and fruit; set aside. In the top of a double boiler, combine 2 tablespoons sugar, salt and gelatine. Slowly stir in egg nog.

Cook over boiling water until gelatine is dissolved, about 5 minutes; stir constantly. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks to a light, lemon color. Slowly add egg yolks to gelatine mixture; stir constantly. Return to top of double boiler.

COOK UNTIL the mixture is slightly thickened and coats a spoon. Stir in fruit mixture. Chill over ice water or refrigerate until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Beat egg whites; gradually add remaining 2 tablespoons sugar and continue to beat untill stiff peaks form. Gently fold into gelatine mixture.

Fold in whipped cream. Turn mixture into baked pastry shell. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. If desired, garnish pie with candied fruit.

AND WHEN the dessert is cherry pie, Cloud Top Cherry Pie updates a perennial favorite.

Cloud Top Cherry Pie
9 - inch baked Pastry Crust
½ cup Sugar
2 Tablesp. Corn Starch
1 can Red Tart Cherries (about 1-lb.)
1 teasp. Lemon Juice
few drops Red Food Coloring
3-oz. pkg. Cream Cheese, softened
2 Tablesp. Lemon Juice
2/3 cup Evaporated Milk
1/4 cup Sugar
½ teasp. Almond Extract

Have baked pastry crust ready. Mix in a 2-quart saucepan ½ cup sugar and corn starch. Drain cherries, saving juice. Add water to juice to make 1 cup. Stir gradually into sugar mixture. Stir over medium heat until mixture begins to boil. Boil and stir 1 minute.

Take off heat. Stir in cherries, 1 teasp. lemon juice and food coloring. Cool. Spread in crust. Mix cream cheese and Tablesp. lemon juice until smooth. Chill evaporated milk in ice tray until almost frozen at edges.

PUT ice-cold milk, ... cup sugar and almond extract into cold small bowl of electric mixer (or 1½ -quart bowl). Using cold beaters, whip with electric mixer at high speed or with rotary beater until stiff. Beat in cream cheese mixture at medium speed. Spoon over cherries. Chill 3 hours. Top with toasted, slivered Almonds.

Herb gravy for meat, potatoes or noodles

Serve this gravy with meat, poultry, or over noodles, rice, potatoes, and hot meat sandwiches.

HERB GRAVY
1 package brown gravy mix
¼ teaspoon sage
1 cup water

Combine gravy mix and sage in a small saucepan. Gradually stir in water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Then reduce heat. Simmer and stir 1 minute. Makes about 1 cup gravy.

Turkey-olive curry festive party dish

Hats off to Thanksgiving and the coming holidays! Make your parties memorable ones by serving Turkey-Olive Curry. Evaporated milk insures lump - free curry sauce every time.

TURKEY - OLIVE CURRY
(Makes 6- 8 servings)

1 tbs. butter
1 tbs. flour
tsp. salt
1 tbs. curry powder
2 cups undiluted evaporated milk
2 tbs. chopped parsley
¼ cup minced onion
1 tsp. lemon juice
½ cup sliced ripe olives
2 cups diced cooked turkey

DPW sets fight on child welfare plan

A proposal that all child welfare services in Maryland be taken from under jurisdiction of the State Department of Public Welfare and placed under authority of another agency, possibly a new one, is facing strong opposition.

This is a recommendation now before the Special Committee on Juvenile Courts of the Legislative Council in its interim report. Committee chairman is Judge George B. Rasin.

The State Board of the Welfare Department, by a unanimous vote of eight of its nine members present at a recent meeting, rejected all aspects of the proposal.

Also voicing opposition is the Advisory Council on Child Welfare.

The opposition is united in visualizing excessive expenditures in establishing a new agency to handle child welfare services now performed by the Bureau of Juvenile Deliquency Services of the State Department of Public Welfare.

They hold it would be conducive to more efficient services to increase, instead, the budgets of these services.

RALEIGH C. HOBSON, director, had this to say in part before the committee last Friday:

"It is extremely important to keep under one administration at the local level the various programs which provide financial aid and social services to persons requiring these services.

"Families with children receiving financial aid, for example, may also be found to be in need of protective services where neglect or abuse of children is found.

"Or it may be necessary to remove one or more children in a family temporarily providing foster home placements.

"The use of homemaker services in lieu of temporary removal of children during the mother's illness is another example of how the local administrator might choose from one of a variety of services at his disposal, in order to put into effect the best possible plan for the children.

"The separation of child welfare services from the Welfare Department would destroy the effectiveness of this family - oriented system."

The committee has under preparation a number of other recommendations on which legislative action will be urged at the coming General Assembly session, one of which is that age limit of jurisdiction of the Juvenile Court be set at 17 years and be uniform throughout the state.

Also under consideration is a proposed bill to require the licensing of those who provide day care for children, unless (1) the person is related, (2) or a close friend of the child's parents, (3) the child has been referred by a licensed agency.

March Saturday to protest war in Vietnam

The Baltimore Fellowship for Reconciliation will be represented Saturday in the March on Washington to dramatize FOR's goal of a negotiated settlement of the Vietnamese War.

Thousands are expected to take part in the march which will include an appearance in front of the White House at 11 a.m. and a mass meeting at 2 p.m. at the Washington Monument.

— Buses will leave at 11 a.m. from the parking lot of the Baltimore Life Insurance Company, Howard, and Preston Sts.

Two key goals of FOR is to get the government to call for a cease fire "and to this end, halt the bombing of North Vietnam."

Speakers listed for the march program include Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer; Congressman George Brown Jr., Dr. Benjamin Spock, N O r m a n Thomas, Dr. Edwin Dahlberg, Prof. M. Duffy Jr. of Notre Dame and Carl Oglesby, SDS.

Invited to take part is Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

DEC. 7

Richard Scammon, director, Elections Reserach Center in Washington and former director of the U.S. Census Bureau, will speak at Morgan State College at 3 p.m. in the Student Union Lounge on the topic: "The Use of Census Data by Politicians and Others. A coffee hour and informal discussion will follow.

Bon Secours nurses aides program set

Bon Secours Hospital, 2025 W. Fayette St., announced today a program to combat the critical shortage of nurses aides.

Sister Mary Regina, associate director of Nursing Service, the hospital is a new recruiting program, is designed to enhance its long-standing reputation of excellent nursing service.

She said that Bon Secours is teaching aides without charge for schooling which will constitute a free community service.

Nurses aides completing the training are assured of employment at the hospital but are not obligated to accept if they desire not to, she pointed out.

Two classes — morning and evening — have been established for this purpose, She said.

Applicants must be 35 years of age or over and have completed the 10th grade. They must also pass a physical examination which is given free by the hospital.

Classes are held two hours per day on a three - day-week basis with a written examination at the end of the course.

Thirteen trainees will complete the six-week course this week.

They are:

MESDAMES Zelda Price, Louise Hutchins, Delta Jackson, Marion Jackson, Kathryn Maholchic, Marion Moore, Emma Johnson, Mary Strickland, Anne Cooper and Leah Coates.

Also Misses Bernice Meekins, Louise Ebert, and Sarah Eubanks.

"The program is invaluable to any girl or woman for everyday family life use," Mrs. Mary C. Weber, in-service cordinator, said, "but it is hoped that many of the trainees wil, remain to work at the hospital."

Pressman poem calls for Yule gifts to needy

City Comproller Hyman Pressman almost stole the thunder of Santa Claus Anonymous' guest speaker, Oriole's third baseman Brooks Robinson, by calling for gift contributions in rhyme at the annual SAC luncheon held Tuesday at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Mr. Pressman said, in describing the needy children, "to them it will be a treasure, to you it will bring pleasure; action time is here, SCA, your good deed for the year."

Brooks Robinson, voted "Most Valuable Player for 1964," asked those present to simply picture mentally a child without a toy on Christmas Day and that this image "would make us feel enough guilt to give what we can to SCA."

Miss Esther Lazarus, director of the Department of Public Welfare, read two letters from greatful parents to the SCA for last year's gifts. She added that the problem of rehabilitation of needy comes each time the city tries to cut the welfare rolls. There is no additional allotment to welfare ecipients for the holidays.

SANTA CLAUS Anonymous hopes to raise $75,000 in order to give a $3 Christmas Gift Certificate to 25,000 needy children.

The parents of the children buy the actual gift from the donations collected by the Baltimore Jaycees and the Junior League.

All campaign funds are raised at a Christmas Dance for the following year, thus allowing all donations to go directly to the needy.

William L. Brandt is president, Sylvania Boone is vice president, and Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin is original founder of the organization.

COOKING IS FUN

Holidays are pickle days with after-party toddies

Here's an unusual idea to serve guests about to "hit the road" after a holiday party. A big tureen of steaming hot punch, made with canned soups spiced with sweet pickle liquid — sure to please.

A confetti topping of whipped cream and sweet pickle relish adds a festive touch as well as intriguing flavor.

Sandwiches go well with the hot Midnight Toddy. They can be hearty ones like heroes, or more dainty fare like Pickle Wedges given here.

MIDNIGHT TODDY
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

1 can (10 - ½ ounces) condensed beef broth, 1 can (10-½ ounces) condensed tomato soup, ½ cup sweet pickle liquid, 4 cups water, 2 tablespoons prepared horse - radish, ¼ teaspoo. tabasco, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, well - drained an. lengthwise sweet gherkin slices.

Combine condensed beef broth, condensed tomato soup, pickle liquid, water, horse - radish and tabasco; mix well. C ok over low heat, stirring frequently, until serving temperature is reached.

Turn into punc. bowl. Fold pickle relish into whipped cream. Top punch with cream mixture. Serve in punch cups or mugs garnished with sweet gherkin slices on wooden skewers.
