Freedom speakers show 'conditioning' causes inferiority

The Frederick County Branch NAACP held its first Freedom Fund Dinner at the Asbury Methodist Church social hall last Thursday.

The Rev. Walter Fauntroy, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Washington, and prominent Civil Rights leader heading the Washington chapter of the Southern Leadership Conference, was the speaker.

In a very dramatic delivery, the Rev. Fauntroy reviewed the process whereby colored people have been "conditioned" to believe and act as if they are "less than equal" to whites.

Senator John Derr and Delegate Goodloe Bryon also addressed the group. Senator Derr told the diners that, "if you want to be a real voice in this community, get down to Winchester Hall and register!"

Repsonding to a question from the floor, both Senator Derr and Mr. Bryon pledged to support open housing legislation in the 1966 General Assembly.

THE PRESIDENT of the Frontiers of America, Claude Delauter, presented Samuel C. Hamilton, president of the Frederick NAACP with a check of $100 as final installment on a $500 Life Membership.

Court enjoins Liston from threatening nickle-loser

DENVER (UPI) —Sonny Liston, the burly former heavyweight Champion who used to be known as "two-fisted," is in trouble with Denver police again. This time it is over a two-headed nickel.

Denver waiter Ira W. Martin, 32, told Dist. Judge Mitchel B. Johns yesterday that Liston loaned him the nickel four months ago. Martin said he lost the coin.

He said Listen threatened to kill him if he did not return it.

The judge issued a restraining order against the boxer ordering him to refrain from threatening Martin.

"You better have that two-headed nickel next time I see you or something is going to happen to you," the waiter quoted Liston as saying two weeks ago.

Martin said Liston told him last Saturday: "The next time, I'm going to kill you." Martin was in a barber's chair at the time.

"I'm afraid to go out to be misused," Martin told the judge.

"Are you doing this for a publicity stunt?" the judge asked Martin.

• • •

"No Sir," the waiter said.

• • •

LISTON HAS been in repeated trouble with Denver police. He has been fined three times for speeding and once for carrying a concealed weapon.

Last Christmas Day, Liston spent four hours in jail after scuffling with 10 policemen when he was stopped for investigation of drunken driving.

He lost the heavyweight title to Cassius Clay in February 1964 and was knocked out in the first round by Clay last May.

Judge Johns set a hearing in the newest case or Dec. 10.

The judge asked William Conner, 37, who witnessed the barber shop incident, if he thought Liston was joking.

"There was no smiles in this at all," Conner said.

THE WINNER! Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Baltimore, left, prepare to congratulate Jockey Blum who rode Tudor Manor, the no. 7 horse, to victory in the National Guardsmen Purse which was the seventh race at Pimlico. Mr. Brown is president of Baltimore Guardsmen Inc., which entertained 200 guests in the Clubhouse on Saturday.
