Geoffrey Holder comes to Coppin

Geoffrey Holder, who will serve on the campus of Coppin State College as artist-in-residence during this week, will present a public lecture-concert 11 a.m. Friday in Pullen Gymnasium, 2500 W. North Avenue.

Regarded as the first multi-faceted talent to reach the American cultural scene since the days of the Younger Orson Welles, Holder has conquered almost every phase of the world of fine art, including dance, painting (for which he won a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1957), television, the stage and movies.

He is equally adept at composing, choreography, acting, photography, writing and costume design.

As dancer his first critical acclaim was received as featured soloist in the original production of the Truman Capote-Harold Arlen musical "House of Flowers." Later he appeared as premier danseur at the Metropolitan Opera in "Aida" and "La Perichole." With his own troupe he has performed at Radio City Music Hall, Spoleto Festival in Italy and for five alternate years at Jacob's Pillow.

Frequent choreographer for his wife Carmen DeLavallade, premiere danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera and who appeared with her company at Coppin State College last year, the one-man lecture-concert brings to the audience a program that embodies the many aspects of his talents.

They included painting, design, costuming, lighting, dance — the component parts of live theatre.

The Friday appearance is admission free.

Olivet Baptist honors couple

CHICAGO — Dr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Jackson were honored for 27 years of service at their church at a celebration held at Olivet Baptist Church recently.

Dr. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, was praised by community leaders for his work in civic groups and his forthright political stands.

Named prof of military science

Army Lt. Col. Henry L. Gibson, of Baltimore, has assumed duties as professor of Military Science at Southern University.

Before his promotion Lt. Col. Gibson had served as the ROTC director of instructions and executive officer of the ROTC Instructor Group at Southern University.

He is now serving his second year of duty as a member of the university staff.

Prior to this assignment Lt. Col. Gibson had served tours in Vietnam, Germany and the U.S. He was graduated from Carver Vocational-Technical High School in 1948 and entered the service as a second lieutenant after graduation from Hampton Institute.

ADA to invite candidates for questions

The local chapter of the Americans for Democratic Action has announced it will hold a public forum for all "avowed gubernatorial candidates" at the Community College of Baltimore Dec. 8 at 7 p.m.

Chairman Alexander Stark said the forum will allow the candidates to present their positions and for questions to be presented to them.

The publicly-announced candidates and community organizations will receive written invitations to the forum, Mr. Stark said.

Catonsville gets a new physician

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones, of 6107 Old Frederick Rd., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carpenter were guests.

Catonsville has a new doctor, Dr. Wenifredo N. Iglesia, M.D. Office hours are Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harris of Jones Ave. celebrated a birthday on last week.

The Golden Age Club attended the eighth annual Golden Age Conference last week at the Gen. John Stricker Junior High School in Dundalk.

Hawthorne Smith is president of the club.

The club's singing group was under the direction of Samuel Torsell. Mrs. Gladys Johnson gave a reading, and Mrs. Anna Foreman was accompanist at the piano.

Leon Johnson is the precinct executive in the Catonsville area.

A pre-Thanksgiving dinner is being sponsored Saturday at Grace Church by the Foundation club. Mrs. Sophia Gray is chairman, and the time is 4 p.m.

A Thanksgiving joint-service will be held 11 a.m., Nov. 28 at the Full Gospel Tabernacle Church.

Other participating churches include:

Grace AME, Mt. Gilboe AME, St. Luke AME and Mt. Olivet United Methodist Church.

Music will be by the combined choirs.

THE HOLLY MANOR Improvement Association, Inc., a newly-formed civic organization which represents the homeowners in the community of Holly Manor in Catonsville, will hold its first fund-raising affair on Nov. 30 from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. at Mardel's, 504 Winters Lane.

The event will be a cabaret with music by the Funny Kane Trio. Admission will be by ticket only.

HOMEOWNERS LIVING in Holly Manor were given last week a formal welcome to Catonsville during a special "Holly Manor Day" program at the Morning Side Baptist Church.

In preparation for the event, a committee from the church called at each of the 55 homes in the relatively new housing development and personally delivered hand-written invitations to each homeowner.

"Holly Manor Day" activities at the church included worshipping with the congregation at the 11 a.m. service and participating in a Fellowship Hour.

Morgan slates student recital

The Music Department of Morgan State College has announced its first public student recital of this year to be held in the Murphy Auditorium 8 p.m. tonight (Tuesday).

Students performing on the program are juniors and seniors of the Music Department, and their compositions will represent each of the areas and periods of music.

The participants include, Karen Bell, piano; Herbrette Clinton, piano; Carl Conn, trombone; William Evans, piano; Sarah Jenkins, voice; Richard Kirby, clarinet; Margaret Lindsay; and Beverly Mondi, piano.

Dr. Clarence A. Faulcon is chairman of the music department.

Graduation adds 49 to police force

The Police Department's Education and Training Center graduated 49 patrolmen in ceremonies Friday morning.

Friday's graduation marks the seventh group of police trainees to complete, successfully, recruit training so far this year, according to Police Commissioner Donald D. Pomerleau.

Commissioner Pomerleau noted that two additional classes will graduate before the end of the year. The number of classes, he said, reflects the success of the Department's recruitment drive.

The new patrolmen are:

Leo J. Bacon, Thomas C. Bash, Richard J. Bernhardi, Edward J. Blackiston, Gary J. Borrowdale, William G. Chaffinch, Ronald J. Clark, Gene E. Colbert, Robert A. Compton, Tyrone Creek, Michael D. Cuffley, Louis J. Danna, Herman G. Earle, Robert D. Edwards, Howard J. Gittings, Galen D. Harrison, Harry S. Hilnbrand, Francis T. Hoyt, Jack L. Kelly, David L. Koerber, Victor J. Konsavage, Donald L. Krebs, Richard W. Lehrun, Walter F. Lee and William J. Leonard.

Also, Gary L. Lippy, Robert J. MacPherson, James D. Mahan, Royce E. McCain, Glen E. Meadows, Edward E. Melton, Walter C. Nooe Jr., Wesley M. Ormrod Jr., Otis E. Pelham, Donald F. Rainey, Jimmy L. Reamy, Paul G. Seitz, William C. Sekinger Jr., George F. Seltzer Jr., Gary M. Shamleffer, Frank A. Stallings, William A. Tolson Jr., Robin W. Thacker, Tyler J. Tyson, Donald F. Waltemeyer, James A. Warren Jr., James A. Wiley Jr., Roland B. Winterstein Jr. and Charles E. Wright.

Jurist warns teens against stealing cars

A Juvenile Court master after hearing four stolen automobile cases Friday, recommened that teenagers stay away from other people's cars.

He said, "Fooling around with cars that do not belong to you is sure to lead to trouble and I mean trouble."

The remarks came from Master John O'Grady whose last case involved three 14-year-old blond youths riding in a stolen high-priced sports car.

The car struck a parked vehicle in a crash that was termed "terrible."

The incident in the 4700 block The Alameda Sept. 20 at 12:50 a.m. resulted in two of the youths being seriously hurt and with injuries that will disfigure their faces for life.

According to an eyewitness, the teen driver of the car pulled two of his companions from the wreckage to the grass.

When she rushed to look closer she observed them stretched out "like dead" and bleeding "just awful," she testified.

ONE OF the youngsters testified the three of them were riding around town after a cruise to Lock Raven Dam.

He told the court the accident occurred when the driver's cigarette dropped on his leg and he lost control of the car as he attempted to grab it.

In conclusion, Master O'Grady said, "Never again fool with a car that isn't yours. Because the whole thing was wrong from the beginning, you have to suffer the rest of your lives."

The driver of the car who was alleged to have stolen the car was sent to the Training School with hopes that he may be placed in the Forestry Camp.

In another stolen car case, three youths were warned and dismissed.

Tre vehicle in which they were caught in October after midnight had been started up, but the youngsters were unable to get it rolling before the police apprehended them.

"You didn't even get to ride," Mr. O'Grady said adding, "See how useless it is to take someone else's car?"

Russell named NIMLO veep

George L. Russell Jr., city solicitor of Baltimore, was elected regional vice president of the National Institute of Municipal Law Officers at its 33rd Annual Convention on Nov. 13, in Kansas City, Mo.

NIMLO is an association of municipal attorneys having a membership of over 1,400 and including virtually every municipality in the country.

Its purpose is to provide an organization through which city law officers can exchange views and work together on common problems in city law.

AS VICE PRESIDENT for Region 3, which includes Delaware, District of Columbia, Kentucky, Maryland and West Virginia, Mr. Russell will have the responsibility for coordination of NIMLO activities in this area.

Mr. Russell's election followed his address to the convention on civil disorders, which proposed a method of practical application for the theory of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders. The Kerner Commission.

His remarks were well received by the Convention.

Food Stamp

For the past two years the Baltimore County Food Stamp Program has been assisting families who, due to having limited incomes from Social Security, pensions, unemployment or low salaries were unable to purchase at least the minimum food required each week.

The resulting malnutrition. TheUnited States Department of Agriculture operating through programs located in each county provide these food stamps.

Families receiving stamps use them the same as they would money at the food store of their choice for whatever food they would normally buy.

The only restriction is that only food may be purchased, no cigarettes, paper goods or household detergents.

Families believing they may be eligible can obtain further information by telephoning 821-5763 or by writing to the Baltimore County Food Stamp Program, 620 York Road, Towson, Md. 21204.

Orlinsky moves to make Morgan a state university

Del. Walter S. Orlinsky, (Dem., 2nd Dist.), announced the pre-filing of a House Joint Resolution which would begin to move Morgan State College into the role of a State University.

Mr. Orlinsky stated:

"Throughout urban America, the backbone of civic progress has been great public universities which have met the bigger educational needs of the unique urban community.

"I have always felt that Baltimore City's failure to have a major public university was one of its main weaknesses and has helped to create some of the problems we are now facing in terms of keeping old businesses and expanding new businesses and general economic opportunity.

"Morgan State College can be the foundation for a great urban university in Baltimore. The college itself is ready to accept the challenge."

* * *

DELEGATE ORLINSKY further pointed out that this effort to transform Morgan from a college into a university will require a total community effort.

To that end, he indicated he has asked Baltimore City Councilmen and political leaders throughout the City of Baltimore to help in this effort.

The delegate also staed that he hoped private citizens throughout the Baltimore community will respond to his effort by writing and calling their delegates and senators asking them to help.
