St. Katherine's lauds outstanding church women

WOMEN'S DAY — Committee members of St. Katherine of Alexandria Church are shown greeting their speaker Major Norma T. Roberts of the Salvation Army. Shown from (L) are Mrs. Evelyn S. Harris, Major Roberts and Mrs. Millie B. Hardien.

"Woman's Concern for the Children of the Future," was the theme for Women's Day at St. Katherine of Alexandria, Division and Preestman Streets.

Mrs. Evelyn S. Harris, chairperson stated, "As parents we must realize that our children, maybe they are not doing what we want them to do perhaps not following in our footsteps.

"Do they know they are loved and accepted never - the - less. Children grow best with adult models who reflect high morals and ideals. Therefore, parents, let us try to become the ideal model for our children of the future."

Major Norta T. Roberts, of the Salvation Army Corp., was the 10 a.m. dpeaker. She has served as director of the Salvation Army Social Service Department since June, 1976.

Mrs. Bernice Holland and Mrs. Mary Robinson, two long time active members of St. Katherine were honored as women of the year. Mrs. Holland, who is fondly called "Bea" is never too busy to help others. She said she believes people should be closer to God and have a church to which to belong or attend. The negative outlook of which many people have today should be changed if only they would put Christ strongly in their lives and living."

Mrs. Mary Robinson, mother of five, grandmother of 13 and great grandmother of four has been strongly supportive of her children in fostering strong family ties, a love for St. Katherine's and a Christian way of life.

She has encouraged each of her children to complete their education and become successful in their chosen vocation. She is also a longtime active member of St. Katherine's.

Committee members were Mesdames Merrial S. Brinkley, Carolyn Dungee, Gladys Wagner, Laura Churchill, Carolyn B. Dungee, Ruby Hall, Mildred Harden, Bernice Holland, Velma Milburn, Clarice Patterson, Linda Siggers, Cheryl H. Smith, Deborah A. Tyler, Mary Robinson and Hortense Grant.

Also, Mesdames Mildred Harden, Karen T. Harris, Vivian S. Reed, Cheryl H. Smith, Deborah A. Tyler, Betty Lee, Celestine Siggers, Cheryl H. Smith, Emily Tilley and Dorothy Wright.
