Washington Sidelights

BY NIKKI NAKATANI

The performance of the incomparable Lena Horne at Cramton Auditorium, Howard University last Saturday evening was before an equally appreciative audience who gave standing ovations, "right on's" "Alrights" and all the glowing terms to warm a performer's heart and encourage them to entertain.
On the grounds where she became Dr. Horne, last year, Lena who was utterly sensational at her Kennedy Center show, added a bit more chatter in relating her Hollywood years and experiences, and rendered three extra songs — "I'm Gonna Sit Right Down and Write Myself "a Letter," (a popular Fats Waller tune), and my special favorites, "The Lady is a Tramp" and "Honeysuckle Rose." Words are inadequate to justifiably describe and express your feelings about a complete artist, who is soooo sensational and gets better and better through the years. The musical audience was wise were with her — she had complete command of her audience and they loved every moment.

There were quite a few folks taking in seconds of Lena — like yours truly, Bea Alexander and daughter, Normastel. Helen Saw Catherine Tignor, Henrietta Avent, Barbara Clark, Lillian Long, Marguerite Mazique, Barbara Stockton, Marilyn Brown, Fai and Alvin Rucker, the George Dorseys, Mercedes Butts, dewell Sheppard Robinson, Earlene Freeman, Judge Bill and Jane Fowler, the Harold Blakewells, Erma Wilson, Margaret Stewart-Muriel Vaughn.

Ruth A. Sykes, Phyllis Patton, Doris Eiland, Muriel Jones, Thurston Bush, Ruth Bates Harris, Mrs. Wade McCree, Kitty Phyne, Bernice Elam, Ersa Poston, Judge Robert Watts, Milton Dickerson, Dr. and Mrs. Isiah Burton, who were at the Kennedy Center, would find it hard to believe ... but Lena was just fabulous and sensational.

The DST Telecommunications for whom Lena is making the Spring - Summer tour, found hard working members like Alice T. Davis and Hattye Young glowing in the successful venture.

Yep, Willie Tyler and Lester and the Band from the Duke Ellington School for the Arts were also well received.

Following the show, a reception was held in the lounge and folks had an opportunity to touch and seek Lena's autograph. Dear Sherman Snead was busy, as autograph - seekers surrounded Lena and he tried to enlarge the circle so that she could get some air. The love and the electrifying performance had united the star and the audience and they both loved it.

DC CPTA AND DYNAMITE LADY

She is widely known on the speakers' circuit as one of the most articulate, dramatic and dynamic young speakers and proved it last Thursday evening at the Diamond Jubilee Celebration in the Crystal Room of the Washington Hilton Hotel of the closing dinner of the 67th Annual Convention of the District of Columbia Congress of Parents and Teachers. The "she" is Atty. Patricia A. Russell, deputy chief, Industry, EEO Office of the General Counsel Federal Communications Commission. Before more than 300 guests, the dynamic speaker also impressed a number of students in the room, as she stressed the importance of quality education for children of today and the future, concerned parents and dedicated teachers. The young and their elders agreed. There were many interruptions of applause and at the conclusion of her remarks — a standing ovation.

The dinner at which WRC - TV's editorial director, Ms. Gayle Perkins, was the very personable mistress of ceremonies, found Congressman Daniel K. Akaka of Hawaii, bringing greetings from Aloha - land — the famed Pacific state of hula, beautiful beaches, pineapples and one of the largest minority populations — where the national convention will be held next month.

From Raymond Elementary School were Alease A. Feay, Mary J. Scroggins, Adele B. Oatis, Aileen M. Redmond, Mozaline Baird, Elsie Carr, Pat Tardy, Beverly Lee, Dorothy Perkins and Evelyn Grease. Also among those present who enjoyed the hula dancing by the members of the Hawaiian State Society were Dorothy Perkins, Evelyn Grease, Donnetta Gaither, Beverly Rogers, Rosa Davis, Luke Watkins, Audrey Watkins, Robert Alston, Rosa W. Alston, Georgia Robertson, Anna Reynolds and Audrey Waters- all from Emery Elementary School.

From Mae Farland Junior High were Mrs. Epps, W. Gray, A. Gordon, M. Tyrance, G. Johnson, Ms. Smith, Diane Edwards, David Hudgins, Jacqueline Craig and Jackie Hicks.

She, along with Veta Harrison, whom I have known for years; Edna Herns and Roseann M. Gray, were among the welcoming faces.

The convention theme, "Making The Grade" undoubtedly found the D.C. CPTA's president, Mrs. Patricia W. Morris, emerging as the "A" student, as she and her committee did a terrific job.

TODAY'S DAMES

What better way to celebrate a special anniversary than with a small number of friends, attractive setting, not too far from the city but with ample parking, adding a cocktail hour, a delectable dinner, dancing for hours and getting home on Sunday before midnight? Today's Dames did just that at the Hampshirer Motor Inn with approximately 175 guests. Yep, it's a spiffy name for a delightful group of ladies who celebrated their 25th anniversary. Bruce Brown, Eugene Howley, Harry Polk, Alphonso Bridgeport, Ernest Eiland, Andrew Bryant, Robert Freeman, Page Bolden, Harry Davis, Martin Crichlow, Benjamin Spaulding, John Clark, Floyd White, Stacey White, Bennett Neal, Warren Morris, C.
