Now to meet newcomer Ford

BATS AND BRAWLS (AND GATEFOLDS): It was a busy and sometimes turbulent year for newcomer Dan Ford — both on and off the field.

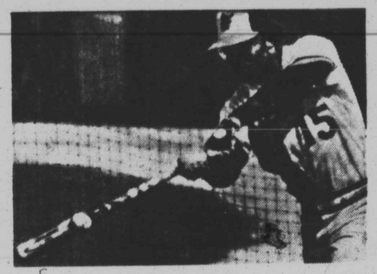

He was a principal in two on field fights, was suspended for 3 days for using a corked bat and in July was featured on the Playgirl Magazine "gatefold" attired in his birthday suit.

After hitting a 2 - run homer off Mike Norris at Oakland Arp. 29, Ford was crossing home plate when he noticed A's catcher Mike Heath inspecting his bat for cork . . A tug - of - war ensued, causing both benches to empty.

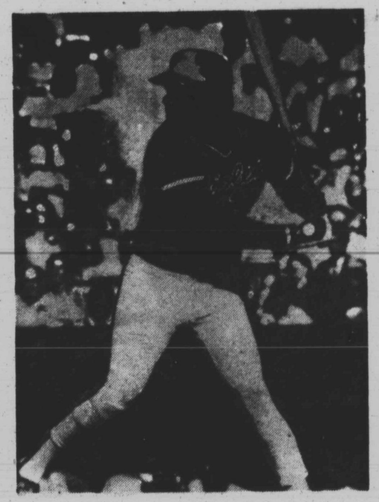

On Aug. 23 after going 7 - for - 9 with 2 doubles, 2 homers and 7 rbi the 2 previous nights against Cleveland (at Cal.), Dan was plunked in the ribs by the Tribe's John Denny, precipitating a 15 minute melee.

Then, during a game at Cleveland Sep. 4, Dan grounded out off Len Barker and as a piece of his bat chipped off, revealing to umpires Marty Springstead and Dallas Parks, the presence of an illegal substance (cork) inside

The incident cost Dan a fine and an enforced 3 day vacation.

Rightfielder Dan Ford

THE BAT WILL TALK — Expected to be cast in a designated hitter role with the arrival of Dan Ford, old reliable Ken Singleton figures to regain hitting form. Relieved of defensive pressure on knees and grouped with Ford and Eddie Murray, opposing teams will be forced to give him better pitches than previously.

At California

By Gene Mauch
Angels Manager

ANAHEIM, CA — When I was managing the Minnesota Twins in 1977, I felt my line - up was pretty potent with Lyman Bostock, Dan Ford, Larry Hisle, Rod Carew, Roy Smalley and Butch Wynegar but it doesn't compare with the line-up the 1982 California Angels will field.

We have a potential All - Star at each infield and outfield position and our catching has been strengthened, too.

Last year we were vulnerable against righthanded pitching. We just didn't score on righthanders like we should have. I think our line - up as it's currently constituted will rectify that vulnerability. A lot depends on Bobby Grich. I never saw a player more devastating for two or three weeks like Grich was in 1981. My batting order against righthanders will probably read as follows: Rod Carew, Rick Burleson, Fred Lynn, Reggie Jackson, Don Baylor, Daryl Sconiers or Grich, Doug De Cinces and Bob Boone.

We're deep enough where we can give ample rest to all our people. The addition of Tim Foli really gives the infield flexibility. You'll see him play each of the infield positions and he'll probably appear three or four times weekly.

I'd like to know that our pitching is okay. There's a chance that it is.
