The AFRO goes to the ninth annual UNCF Gala

CONGRESSMAN PARREN J. MITCHELL, guest speaker for the evening, converses with WJZ anchor, Frank Luber.

GALA GUESTS spotted during the festivities included Eugene Turner and Doris Black.

Mrs. A. Bernice Hunley, chairperson of the Maryland Women's Committee.

Invocation was offered by the Rev. Father Carl Fisher, St. Francis Xavier church.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Congressman Parren J. Mitchell, who in his remarks, stressed the importance of education.

There was a sit - down dinner to tempt the palates, and for the pleasure of all ears, there were musical selections by members of the Morgan State University choir, under the direction of Dr. Nathan Carter.

Special highlight of the evening was the crowning of the UNCF queens, young ladies who as contestants had helped to raise money for UNCF through their ads for the program booklet and through their patrons. They were presented by Brenda Johnson, Contestant Chair. Three were crowned for their splendid work.

Rhonda Robinson, a senior at Johns Hopkins University with a major in Chemical Engineering, who was sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Sorority, was a winner.

So was Monica Jones, a tenth grader at Baltimore City College who was sponsored by Dorothy Polk.

Garnering the crown for Junior Miss UNCF was Kimberly Lacks a ninth grader at Northern High School who was sponsored by Brenda Johnson.

Runner - up was Karen Ledbetter, a member of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, who had been sponsored by them. She's a junior at Morgan U with a Business Education major.

All queens received a crown, bestowed upon them by Gyl Beth Johnson, UNCF Junior Miss, 1979, and a trophy. Runner - up received a trophy.

Other presentations were made by Mrs. Mildred A. Williams, past chairperson of the Maryland Women's Committee.

A monetary donation was presented to Mrs. Shirley Brown, of the National UNCF office for the UNCF.

Dr. Andrew Billingsly accepted a presentation from the committee for Morgan U.

Parren Mitchell received a plaque in recognition of his achievements and his services to the cause of the quality of life for blacks.

Following the singing of the Black National Anthem by the assemblage, the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Father Fisher.

FAREWELL TRIBUTE FOR DR. IRVING HAWKINS

More than 250 community leaders, physicians, dentists and friends turned out to pay tribute to the retiring Provident Hospital, Inc. Chief of Dentistry, Irving Hawkins Jr., D.D.S. on Sunday, March 20 in a salute hosted by the hospital's Medical-Dental Staff in the Community Mental Health Center.

Dr. Hawkins retired after 21 years of service, the last 13 years as Chief of Dentistry.

Curtis Adams, D.D.S., Provident staff dentist presided over the program which began with a special presentation to Dr. Hawkins by the Dental Department who surprised the honoree with a birthday cake marking his 55th birthday celebrated March 25th and a complete set of beautiful Samsonite luggage.

Ferdinand S. Leacock, M.S., president of Provident Medical Staff presented the honoree with a lovely clock plaque on behalf of his colleagues.

In making the presentation Dr. Leacock praised Dr. Hawkins for his "patience, dedication, even temper and ability to motivate and instill confidence in others."

Luther Mathias, D.D.S., one of the first dental residents to train under Dr. Hawkins acknowledged the fact that the honoree was responsible for training of many young aspiring dentists, in addition to the establishment of Provident's Dental Residency Program.

Presentations were also made to the honoree by Oakley Saunders, M.D., Internin President, Provident Hospital, Dr. Harvey Webb and the staff of Constant Care, Gladstone Davis, D.D.S., president, The Maryland Dental Society; Robert Phillips, D.D.S., who represented the National Dental Society; Dr. James Bell, Provident's Chief of Radiology on behalf of his department; and Mrs. Naomi Lawson, president, the Auxiliary of Provident Hospital.

All presentors were unanimous on their comments that Dr. Hawkins had made significant contributions to the progress of dentistry through his services to the hospital.

Dr. Hawkins is a graduate of Howard University and did his residency at the Harlem Hospital, New York City.

He holds membership in many professional organizations including The National Dental Society, Chi Delta My, the Maryland Dental Society and the Academy of General Dentistry.

Although his days of service to Provident are over, Dr. Hawkins will continue to his private practice located at 3401 Liberty Heights Avenue.

INTERNATIONAL OPEN HOUSE AT MSU

McKeldin Center Ballroom was recently the scene of Morgan State University's "International Open House," an event sponsored by the Department of Housing and Residence Programs.

The theme for the event was "A Parade of Culture in the History of Black People" which centered around bridging the gap between different Black backgrounds (such as American, African, and Caribbean).

The main purpose of the Open House was to alert people to the fact that basically all Black
