D.C. Happenings

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS — Within the massive Italian Renaissance confines of one of the world's largest libraries are more than 325 miles of shelves containing 16 million books, pamphlets, etc., and such noteworth displays as the three-volume Gutenberg Bible and Thomas Jefferson's rough draft of the Declaration of Independence. A variety of temporary displays are featured as well. The library facilities are open to everyone, and there are tours throughout the day. The library is open Mon.-Fri. 8:30 a.m.-9:30 p.m. Sat. 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sun. 1-5 p.m. First and Independence Ave., S.E., 426-5000.

LICOLN MEMORIAL — Simplicity is the keynote of the Lincoln Memorial, built along the lines of a classic Greek temple. The 10-foot tall marble statue of the President took four years to carve. Open 24 hours. West Potomac Park (West End of Mall) at base of 23rd St., N.W., 381-7000.

MORMON TEMPLE — One of the area's most striking new landmarks is the white marble Washington Temple and Visitors Center. Although the Temple is closed to the public since it consecration, the Visitors Center displays such items as a scale model of the angel which tops one of the Temple's six spires and multi-media presentations which dramatically depict aspects of the Temple and the beliefs of the Mormons. Washington temple, 9900 Stonebrook Dr., Kensington, Md. 587-0144.

MOUNT VERNON — George Washington slept here — so many times that it's become, next to the White House, the most famous residence in the U.S. There is probably no better existing example of what an 18th-century planation was like. The interior has been completely restored with a meticulous eye for detail and authenticity. Admission; adults $4, senior citizens $3, chicken 6-11 $1.50, children under 6 free. Open daily 9 a.m.-5 p.m. 16 miles south on Mt. Vernon Memorial Highway, 780-2000.

NATIONAL AQUARIUM — the nation's oldest public aquarium features a wide range of both freshwater and marine animals. More than 1000 specimens represent 175 different species. Open daily 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Commerce Department Building, 14th and Constitution Ave., N.W. (Metro stop: Federal Triangle), 377-2825.

NATIONAL ARBORETUM — A research and educational facility under the department of agriculture, the Arboretum's 444 acres are an outdoor laboratory of living plants. Included are a Japanese garden, bonsai collection and season flower displays. Open Mon.-Fri. 8 a.m.-7 p.m., weekends from 10 a.m. 24th and R Sts. N.E., 475-4185.

NATIONAL ARCHIVES — Within the Corinthian grandeur of the multi-million-dollar building are the most important documents in our history including the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and Bill or Rights, which are displayed in bronze cases protected by one of the elaborate burglar and fire systems in the world. Open Mon.-Sat. 9 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sun. 1-6 p.m. Constitution Ave., between 8th and 9th St., N.W. 523-3000.

NATIONAL CAPITAL PARKS — Washington's beautiful parks include many things to see and do. For daily recorded information about special events, dial 426-6975.

Rock Creek Park — The tree-lined valley of the creek creates a long, narrow park through the heart of the city. Special places are the zoo, (see listing) and Pierce Mill, a restored 19th-century grist mill, where grain is stone ground by costumed millers. Open Wed.-Sun. 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. The Art Barn - located at Beach Dr. and Tilden St., features art classes for adults and children and free art demonstrations on Sun. afternoons. Rock Creek Nature Center — Military and Glover Rds., N.W., has displays of mounted and live animals, a beehive and several push-button quizzes and offers guided walks through adjacent woods. Planetarium — shows at the center are Mon.-Fri. by reservation. A planetarium show for children under the age of seven is presented at 1:15 p.m. and for adults at 4 p.m. weekends. The center is open Mon.-Fri. 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m. and weekends 10 a.m.-6 p.m. 426- 6829.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY — Explorers Hall displays the world's largest unmounted globe, an 11-foot reproduction of National Geographic's 16-inch world globe. Special exhibits relate to mankind's history, customs and exploration of the earth, sea and sky. Open Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sun. 10 a.m-5 p.m. 17th and M Sts. N.W. 857-7000.

NATIONAL SHRINE OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION — The largest Catholic church in the U.S. is built entirely of stone and masonry. The architecture combines Romanesque and Byzantine styles. The focal point of the interior is the altar dominated by the baladachin (marble canopy) and supported by 20-foot-tall rose colored columns. Guided tours daily 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Sun. 10 a.m.-5:15 p.m. Open daily 7 a.m. Michigan Ave., at 4th St., N.E., 526-8300.

NATIONAL ZOOLOGICAL PARK — The pair of giant pandas, Ling-Ling and Hsing-Hsing (the only pandas in the United States) is the key attraction at the official zoo of the nation. A unique enclosure allows birds to fly about freely while visitors wander through below. Recent additions include the open lion and tiger area surrounded by a moat, and Beaver Valley, which allows visitors remarkable underwater views of the animals at play. Special wildlife gifts, art objects, prints and books for adults and children are featured in the bookstore and gallery inside the education-administration building. The zoo buildings are open 10 a.m.-6 p.m. and the grounds are open 8 a.m.-8 p.m. Admission is free, parking is $2. 3001 C necticut Ave., N.W. 673-4800.

PENTAGON — A guided tour, including a short historical film, takes visitors on a one-hour walk through the halls of the Pentagon showing Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine art and exhibits , the Time-Life collection of World War II art and the President's, NATO and Flag Corridors. The tours are conducted Mon.-Fri. every thirty minutes 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Cameras are permitted. The Pentagon Concourse, 693-1776.

SUPREME COURT — A classic marble palace of justic, the building is open to the public Mon.-Fri. 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m. There are various displays and a film on the first floor. Courtroom presentations take place every hour on the half hour from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. when the court is not in session. Beginning the first Monday in October and continuing through April, the court is generally in session for two weeks, then off for two weeks. Mon., Tues. and Wed. There are no arguments during May or June and the court is not in session from July to Sept. First St. and Maryland Ave., N.E., 252-3211.

U.S. CAPITOL — Every 15 minutes, 9 a.m.-3:45 p.m., a guided tour provides an enlightening glimpse of this magnificent structure housing the legislative branch of our government. The Capitol is open 9 a.m.-4:40 p.m. every day. Capitol Hill, 224-3121.

WASHINGTON MONUMENT — Probably the most familiar landmark in the nation, the monument is the highest masonry structure in the world. Many of its stones were donated by cities, states, individuals and foreign countries. The view from the top - 555 feet above the ground — is breathtaking. There are free elevator rides to the top. Open daily 8 a.m.-midnight (through Labor Day). The Mall at 15th St. N.W., 426-6839.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL CATHEDRAL — Probably the best example of Gothic architecture in the U.S., the cathderal has been under construction since 1907. It has excellent stone carving, stained glass, needlepoint and other fine works of art. The Cathedral's greenhouse is open to the public and a varetiy of herbs is offered for sale. Greenhouse hours Mon.-Sat., 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. and Sun., 9 a.m. Open daily 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Tours daily 10 a.m.-3:15 p.m. Sun. at 12:15, 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. Wisconsin and Massachusetts Aves. N.W., 537-6200.

Crafts at Baltimore City Fair

The Baltimore City Fair invites interested craftspeople to submit applications for this year's Fair, to be held Friday through Sunday, September 23, 24, & 25, in the Harbor area of Baltimore City.

The Baltimore City Fair is the largest urban festival of its kind in the U.S., and attracts over 1 million people in the three days it is held. With top name national entertainment, 200 organizational exhibits, food vendors, amusement, and four stages of continuous entertainment, the Fair is Baltimore's annual salute to itself.

this year, crafts will be an important part of the festivities. craftspeople from all over the East Coast are invited to participate. the Fair is open to any craftsperson, photographer, or printmaker living in the U.S. Agents or sales representatives are not allowed. Participants will be selected from submitted slides, judged by the Crafts Committee. Photographs, silkscreen and lithograph prints, and etchings will be accepted, but no paintings or offset or commercial reproductions will be considered. Items made from kits or assembled from premanufactured components will also not be accepted.

To apply, craftspeople must submit five (5) 35mm color slides of the work they will be selling, to: The Baltimore City Fair, P.O. Box 22359, Baltimore, MD 21203, immediately.

The Chairman of the Crafts exhibits, K. Kerchner McConlogue, is herself a working craftsperson in the Baltimore area, and is sensitive to the needs of crafts exhibitors. All crafts will be housed in a single tent, easily accessible to Fairgoers.

For information on how to apply, call the Baltimore City Fair office at (301) 547-0015.

Fall Program at Maryland Institute

Work by Maryland Institute undergraduates will be on view in two different early Fall exhibitions at the Maryland Institute, College of Art. "Undergraduate Work '83," a juried exhibition, will be at the Decker Gallery, Mount Royal Station through Sept. 18.

The opening reception from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 9, has been scheduled to coincide with the first week of classes at the Institute. "Foundation Work '83" will run from Aug. 19 through Sept. 25 in the Meyerhoff Gallery, Fox Building. Both exhibitions are open to the public free of charge and both provide the public with an excellent opportunity to see the wide range of media and styles currently employed by young artists.

Jurors for "Undergraduate Work '83" are Salvatore Scarpitta, artist-in-residence for the Maryland Institute graduate painting and sculpture programs; Burgess Blevins, a professional photographer; Aissatou Mijiza, fiber artist; and painter, John Alexander.

The pieces in "Foundation '83" represent the work of freshmen students at the Institute who have taken a foundation program that includes basic courses in drawing, painting, two-dimensional design and three-dimensional design (sculpture or ceramics).

Mount Royal Station is located at Cathedral Street and Mount Royal Avenue while the Fox Building is across the street from the Institute's Main Building at 1300 West Mount Royal Avenue and next door to the Triple A Building. Hours for both galleries are: Monday - Saturday, 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.; Wednesday & Thursday, 10 a.m. - 9 p.m.; and Sunday, 12 noon-5 p.m.
