issues. He has proposed a jobs program entitled "The Baltimore Plan." That proposal would mandate that fifty percent of all people who work on city-financed construction developments live inside the city.

He has proposed that our schools be upgraded and that teachers be better compensated for the work that they do. Since 1977, 48,000 jobs have been lost in the city of Baltimore. Judge Murphy will turn that situation around, attracting light industry and manufacturing concerns.

In the area of job parity, Judge Murphy has said that he will include more blacks and women in top level city government jobs. There are thirty-two departments in the Baltimore City government. Only eight are headed by blacks.

The current mayor has said that he is an effective spokesman for Urban America. Well, most of Urban America happens to be black, and we believe that Urban America is watching and waiting to see what the citizens of Baltimore will do on September 13th now that there is a credible black candidate seeking our city's top elective office.

On September 13th will we continue to elect indifferent and arrogant leadership, or will we cast our ballots for change. A vote for Judge Murphy will make a difference in all of our lives. It certainly will make a difference in the lives of the majority of the people who live in our city.

ed closely with many of the city's younger politicians. He has attempted to include them in positions of leadership and responsibility. His election is important in this city because one day one of the young people whom he has supported will follow in his footsteps.

With the election of Burns it is expected that blacks will be appointed to the chairmanships of the City Council's most powerful committees.

Although his past selections have been a major source of criticism, we believe that Burns has become sufficiently sensitive to the need to have blacks in crucial positions on major City Council committees. If elected, we believe that he will make the correct decisions.

He is concerned with jobs, education and all of the other issues that most candidates talk about during election time. But Robinson has sincerity about him and a purpose that deserves our attention and deserves your vote. If elected, he will certainly not disappoint us.

Our third choice in the Fifth District is Proctor and Gamble executive Churchill B. Wortherly. A Morgan State University graduate, Wortherly is quite active in numerous civic organizations in the district which he seeks to represent.

He is especially concerned with the issue of youth unemployment and believes that both the public and private sector should work towards resolving the unacceptable levels of unemployment that our city faces today.

We feel that the experience and past involvements of this relative newcomer to the Fifth District political scene justifies him receiving your vote on September 13th.

Voter Motorcade Saturday-10 A.M.

"Mobilize! Not just for us, but for our children," is the theme of a massive motorcade planned by Congressman Parren J. Mitchell this Saturday, September 10 as the last phase of a city voter mobilization drive.

The motorcade, which is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. in the 400 block of N. Central Avenue, will follow a route which covers all councilmatic districts except the third district according to Michael Cryor, Special Assistant to Congressman Mitchell. "That's unfortunate but unintentional.

The main theme is voter participation and the motorcade is not designed to support any particular party. We're asking all the community organizations and neighborhood associations as well as candidates to participate, but it is a nonpartisan parade," says Cryor.

No speeches will be given but candidates may pass out literature, use loudspeakers and music during the motorcade which will begin at 10 a.m. between Monument Street and Orleans Street in the 400 block of North Central Avenue and travel to Broadway; North on Broadway to North Avenue; West on North Avenue to McCulloh Street; McCulloh to Gwynns Falls; West on Gwynns to Garrison Boulevard; North on Garrison Boulevard to Liberty Heights; East on Liberty Heights to Hilton Street; South on Hilton to Poplar Grove to Edmondson Avenue to Franklintown Road to Frederick Avenue, and will disband at Westside Shopping Center.

According to Cryor, the vast majority of the candidates in the councilmatic and citywide races agreed to participate. The motorcade is expected to be larger than last year's motorcade which was held to rally voter participation in the State's Attorney race between Kurt Schmoke and Bill Swisher as well as for state delegates.

"Last year we permitted the candidates to walk the route, but this year we expanded the route because of so many candidates," says Cryor. The candidates of their respresentatives will participate in a lottery at 9 a.m. Saturday morning to determine parade position so that candidate placement in the parade will be impartial aand objective.

"The motorcade allows people to see all the candidates together for the first time. There's something powerful about seeing a phenomenal number of people making a commitment to run for office. We're all affected by the parade because it focuses our attention better than any activity and sharpens our attention that the election is close.

"The cumulative impact of seeing so many black candidates is hopefully inspiring to most people since we live with the reality of underrepresentation."

Still, given the serious nature of the motorcade, Cryor hopes the parade will be entertaining for children as well.

Cryor sees the motorcade as the last phase in a series of activities that hopefully will generate an interest in voting. "We had a tremendous success with the voter registration drive; the community organizations worked hard, and we have seen successful campaigns in other cities—Chicago and Philadelphia, for example, and in councilmatic and judgeship races and on state levels. The cumulative impact is that people are beginning to feel a sense of their power.

The motorcade will probably be the largest event before the election and we intend for it to be as timely as we can make it because it's a valuable day. Hopefully people can maintain that level of excitement through election day," Cryor added.

ANTHONY W. ROBINSON

On the issue of public education, Attorney Robinson's demeanor intensifies as he emphatically declares his intent to pursue all available avenues to acquire greater funding for the school system. He states, "I want to visit regularly all schools in the district so that I have first hand knowledge of those factors that impede the progress of quality education for all children."

Candidate Robinson sees economic development in the fifth as a necessity to provide opportunities for the young and old alike. Robinson states, "When I speak of economic development, I am addressing jobs and housing. The acquisition of permanent jobs and affordable quality housing in the district through the greater utilization of federal and state funds is my goal."
