Q. Diana Ross is one of the best and I call her Lady Boss. I want to find one of her T-shirts and I would truly love to write to her.

MAURICE LEE
Kansas City, Kas.

A. Diana Ross is kind of hard to write to but try your nearest record store and get the address of her record company off the back of her last album. Your record store also will have fan books which lists places where you can send off for photos and T-shirts of various stars.

—Black Economics

of dollars from the World Bank, bonds, drug profits seized in the black community, private financial donors and stocks to finance this bank, which also would be a profit-making venture.

Not only would the bank provide needed capital for the black community it also would help develop programs to train and educate blacks to run their own businesses up to the level of assuming the lead of large corporations.

He says blacks in business should become entrepreneurs rather than corporate junior executives. "Look at the top 500 corporations in the United States and see how many of the chief executive officers are black," he says.

Rufus Shaw Jr. is a man of vision and a man with a plan. Is anybody listening?
