Balto alumni give $50,000

12 local students graduate from VUU

Recently, at the Annual Alumni Banquet honoring Reunion Classes on the campus of Virginia Union University in Richmond, Virginia, Harlow Fullwood, President Emeritus of the Miles W. Connor Chapter, Baltimore, highlighted the occasion by presenting a check on behalf of the Chapter in the amount of $50,000 to Carolyn Daughtry, Provost of VUU.

The gift includes a $12,500 scholarship presented to the Chapter by Mrs. Selby Mcdonald, in memory of her late husband, Dr. George McDonald, a prominent Baltimore physician and a loyal VUU supporter.

It was the eleventh consecutive year that the Miles W. Conor Chapter has stood out among all the alumni chapters. Last year's financial gift of $40,000 was the largest ever given in the history of VUU by an alumni Chapter.

In addition, it was announced that as a result of the Chapter's recruiting efforts, there are more Baltimore high school graduates currently attending VUU than any of the other forty-two United Negro College Fund schools.

Also, at the gala occasion, the newly elected officers of the Miles W. Connor Chapter for 1985 - 86 were announced. They are: Calvin Scott, President; Norman Scott Phillips, Vice-President; Edward P. Jackson, second Vice-President; Rev. Leo C. Wagner, Corresponding Secretary; David S. Jones, Treasurer, Cynthia Jones, Recording Secretary.

Current officers are: Valerie A. Jenkins, President; Norman S. Phillips, Vice-President; Calvin Scott, Secretary; David S. Jones, Treasurer and Rev. Maxwell Johnson, Chaplain.

Valerie A. Jenkins indicated that thirteen Baltimore students received their degrees at the eighty - sixth commencement exercises at the Mosque in Richmond, VA on Sunday, May 5. The students were recruited and received financial and moral support from the Miles W. Connor Chapter. It is to be noted that six of the thirteen students graduated Cum laude.

Two of the students completed dual degree in the Engineering Program and one was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Congratulations to the following Baltimore metropolitan area students:

Herman Alphonso Ford, Recreation; Sheri Lynn Long, Journalism, Cum laude;

The Chapter takes pride in continuing to be one of the most active and productive Alumni Chapters in the nation.

The Chapter will close the 1984-85 year with their Annual Dinner Meeting on June 1, at Meushaw's Hilltop Motor Inn.

McCellan of Pimlico Junior High School was named 'Middle and Junior High School Teacher of the Year' and Shelia Goodman Moore, of Calvert High School in Prince Frederick, Maryland, was named 'Senior High School Teacher of the Year.' Ellen DeSantis, of the Maryland Correctional Institution in Jessup, was named Institutional Teacher of the Year.'

The awards were presented during an elegant dinner that featured beautifully rendered musical selections by members of the Morgan Choir, including a soul - stirring song by Ms. Elizabeth Hogue, a 1985 graduate who auditioned recently for the national television talent program, "Star Search."

Participants in the program included several representatives of Morgan's faculty, administrators of the University, members of the Board of Regents and members of the Graduate Education Student Association. Presiding over the affair was Mr. Stephen Jones, GESA President and a doctoral student at Morgan.

GESA was formed in October, 1980 when the class in School - Community relations, taught by Dr. Frederick T. Anderson, accepted the challenge to establish a viable graduate association within the School fo Education and Urban Studies at Morgan.

The members of the class developed and implemented a plan to insure the organization's perpetuation over the years.

The purpose of the GESA is to provide graduate students with an effective means of communication with School administrators; to enhance cultural interaction between graduate students, to increase opportunities for graduate students to interact with alumni and community members; and to provide a forum for recognizing the achievements of outstanding alumni.
