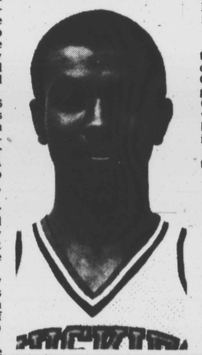
STILL THE LEADER — Although Calvin Peete lost in an extra-hole playoff at last weekend's Houston Open to Curtis Strange, he still collected the $54,000 second money. This enabled him to open up his margin over John Mahaffey as pro golf's top money winner for 1985. Peete has won $301,558 for the year to Mahaffey's $249,636. Jim Thorpe is 30th on the money list with $92,503.

Second Lake Clifton lad stars at Boston college

For the second straight year, a Lake Clifton High School basketball player has helped out the Northeastern University hoop squad. This year's addition to the Huskies was former All-City guard Melvin Bartee, who helped the Red and Black to their second best record ever.

Northeastern finished the '85-86 season with a 26-6 mark and its third consecutive ECAC North Atlantic Conference championship. The Huskies also made their third straight trip to the NCAA Tournament where they lost to Oklahoma in the first round, 80-74.



Melvin Bartee
third Baltimore product

Bartee, a reserve guard under head coach Jim Calhoun, played in 17 games for NU. His steady play and consistency throughout the campign earned a spot on the NAC All-Rookie team.

It was the third year in a row that a Baltimore product has made the squad with Kevin McDuffie (1984-85) and Player of the Year Reggie Lewis (1983-84) preceding Bartee.

McDuffie also attended Lake Clifton and was named NAC Co-Rookie of the Year last year.

Bias, Dawkins join Unseld

Len Bias and Johnny Dawkins, two local products who went on to complete celebrated college careers, will be co-recipients of the coveted Red Auerbach Award, given to the nation's top college basketball player of the year presented to them at the forthcoming Washington Metropolitan Basketball Hall of Fame Induction Dinner, Tuesday, May 13, at Martin's Crosswinds in Greenbelt, Md.

Wes Unseld, a star performer for the Washington Bullets in the 1970's, will be formally inducted into the 'Hall' joining such recognized area basketball personalities as Red Auerbach, Dave Bing, Elgin Baylor, Abe Pollin, Morgan Wooten, and Lefty Driesell. Bias played his high school ball at Northwestern High in Hyattsville, Md.

The 6-foot-8 Bias will share the Red Auerbach Award with another area star, Dawkins. A lightning quick guard with superior leaping ability, Dawkins was the driving force behind Duke University's climb to the top of the polls during the 1985-86 campaign.

One of a number of topnotch senior guards, Dawkins was a standout locally for Mackin High in the District.

O's fans hope yo-yo end may be needed medicine

Perhaps an extended home stand will produce the prescription needed to cure the ills of the 1986 Orioles.

If so, that begins next weekend when the beleaguered Birds return to Memorial Stadium bringing with them the defending world champion Kansas City Royals.

Frustrated by a disappointing 10-10 record going into tonight's (Friday) game at Kansas City, the O's have the right to feel that it all is due to the yo-yo schedule they have been forced to play.

There can be no better description of a schedule that has bounced from three games at home (Cleveland), six on the road (Texas and Toronto), three at home (Texas), three away (Cleveland), three at home (Toronto), then two on the road (Chicago) to date.

Maybe, just maybe the answer is ahead.

Beginning next Friday (9th), the Orioles will settle in for 13 straight nights of baseball and home-cooking.

After Kansas City, comes Chicago, Minnesota, Oakland and California--and a chance to recapture some of that magic their fans sing about.

Additionally, several bonus programs will be in effect during the stand. It opens, in fact with a sackpack giveaway on the 9th, and continues with the popular 3-buck nights on May 12 (White), May 15 (Twins) and May 19 (Angels) .... LACY.

Skins return to Hawaii for young draft prospect

The Washington Redskins, probably swayed by last year's highly successful pick of Raphel Cherry, went to the University of Hawaii again for one of their early choices in Tuesday's NFL draft.

The selection was a 200-pound wide receiver, Walter Murray, who was a Cherry teammate when the latter handled the quarterbacking for the Rainbow Warriors.

Alvin Walton, a speedy defensive back and kick returner from Kansas, also was an early pick by Washington.

Also tapped by the local club was Kenny Fells a running back from Henderson State Arkansas.

As expected, Auburn running back Bo Jackson was the first player selected overall. He went to Tampa Bay, although the two-time All-American and 1985 Heisman Trophy winner hints he may try professional baseball.

"We're prepared to make him the top offer in the history of the draft," Tampa Bay owner Hugh Culverhouse said. "Yes, it's a gamble. But with Bo Jackson and (running back) James Wilder we'll have the most exciting backfield in the NFL, maybe in its history."

Jackson is also commanding the attention of major league baseball. He said he would wait until the major-league draft in June before deciding on his professional career.

"I see pro baseball and pro football as jobs," Jackson said. "Right now I'm job hunting, I mise could be expensive. His contract with Jackson would have to surpass the record $5 million, five-year agreement quarterback John Elway signed with the Denver Broncos in 1983.

The selection of Jackson keyed a round in which six running really don't know that much about the Buccaneers. If I was to sign with them I would do my part as a runningback and not go in as a franchise savior. I just would go in as a regular player."

Culverhouse's draft-day probacks and two quarterbacks were taken in the first 27 picks. Seventeen offensive players were chosen, including six tackles and a guard. Six defensive linemen were chosen. Running backs comprised 11 of the first 41 choices.

Ex-champ comeback

ATLANTIC CITY (UPI) — Former world welterweight champion Milton McCrory of Detroit, fighting as a junior middleweight for the first time, scored a 10-round decision Friday night over pesky Keith Adams of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

McCrory, 28-1-1 with 22 knockouts, weighed 157 pounds as he scored a 10-0, 9-1, 7-3 victory. Adams, 155, has a record of 19-2-3.

McCrory fought for the first time since he lost his WBC Welterweight title to Donald Curry of Fort Worth, Texas, last Dec. 5.

AND THAT'S FOR YOU — Snow Chief, heavy choice to win the Kentucky Derby Saturday, has the proverbial horse-laugh for the AFRO which picks Badger Land. Bold Arrangement and Rampage to beat him, not necessarily in that order. Another AFRO favorite, Rare Brick, was withdrawn after last week's "kiss of death" was planted by a writer who in the past tried unsuccessfully to beat Seattle Slew and Spend A Buck.

Churchill Downs mirror set for Pimlico Saturday

Snow Chief will be a solid favorite at Churchill Downs for the 112th running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday. But at Pimlico, where the first jewel of the Triple Crown will be simulcast for wagering purposes, Robert E. Meyerhoff's Broad brush, a Maryland-bred colt trained by the popular local horseman Dick Small, will be the sentimental choice.

The Derby will be the 10th and final race at Pimlico. The first nine races will be completed shortly after 5 p.m., leaving ample time for win, place, show, and exacta wagering on America's most famous race.

Post time for the Derby is 5:40 p.m. The race will be telecast live by ABC Sports, the network which will also televise the final two legs of the Triple Crown, the Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

Pimlico will take on the aura of Churchill Downs with mint juleps, the official Kentucky Derby drink, on sale throughout the building. Souvenir glasses go with the drink. T-Shirts and hats also will be sold.

The clubhouse dining room will feature Bluegrass specials—Country Ham Steak, Red-Eyed Gravy, Grits and Cornbread and Pecan Pie.

Advanced wagering will begin at Pimlico on Friday. At the conclusion of that program the odds on the Kentucky Derby field established at Pimlico will be released to the media.

Last year Pimlico attracted 15,641 racegoers who wagered nearly $500,000 on the Kentucky Derby.
