An Evening of Emerald Elegance

By PINNIE L. ROSS

The Columbia Chapter of Links, Inc. presented "An Evening of Emerald Elegance" last week at the Turf Valley Country Club. This elegant affair has been the most talked about social event of the year; and why not? It was simply elegant in its entirety.

Greetings and welcome from the Links' dynamic president, Sandra T. Gray, who is the vice president of Independent Sector, Inc., a public interest group in Washington, D.C.

The evening included cocktails, informal modeling, dinner with strolling strings, dancing and casino games. The evening climaxed with an auction of beautiful items donated by Columbia area merchants.

The ladies wore fashions of a new range of feminity with the nature look, simple but elegant, captured the eyes of everyone in attendance. The clothes were an expression of personal style that reflected the attitude of the wearer. All fashions made terrific statements in fabrics of sensuous satin, silk, chiffon, crepes, and beads of glitter from the chemise look to the return of the handkerchief design.

Many thanks to our Connecting Links who diligently manned the casino games with special ease and to Bill Ross who was a real champ of an auctioneer. He was ably assisted by Ernie Colvin and several guest auctioneers.

A special orchid to chairperson Jeanne Cooper and her fine committee members.

The proceeds from the affair will benefit the United Negro College Fund, the Howard County Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Columbia Links will join the NAACP's Golden Heritage Life Membership Program. A scholarship will be available to a female Howard County resident needing assistance in acquiring additional training.

Members of the Columbia Chapter of Links, Inc. are: Sandra T. Gray, president; Janice Skinner, vice president; Luz secretary; Lula Wade, corresponding secretary, Sandra N.
