Vulcan Blazers treat Pop

Nine Undercover Wear models performed for a capacity crowd of 250, at the Vulcan Blazers Clubhouse, Druid Park Dr., Sunday, May 8, from 5 until 9 p.m.

The lingerie modeled ranged from petite sizes to X-large Teddies, camisoles, piquet sets, glow-in-the-dark, peek-a-boo, and long flowing gowns graced the ramp to excite and enthrall the captivated audience.

The gentlemen enjoyed the lace corsets and two-piece nylon and lace outfits that left the audience breathless.

The evening was also highlighted by an exotic dancer, Michael Bledsoe, of the Gentlemen 10, 'How You Like Me Now' who had dollars flying through the air until he ceased to move.

From a fully dressed businessman to the delicate arrray of a black nylon G-string he engulfed all within his reach.

Door prizes were awarded to the guests by way of intimate undercover selections such as pantyhose, safety pins, gift certificates from Macy's and the like.

Carnations were given out at the door to exhibit the true feeling of Mother's Day. Roses and champagne were presented to the models by Charles Stith, a member of the Vulcan Blazers, during the finale with music played by Kenny G.

Herb Brown was music director for the show and Peggy Terl was commentator. The affair was held to benefit the Vulcan Blazers, Inc.

MEMBERS OF THE VULCAN BLAZERS, INC. who pose happily during the Cocktail Sip-Fashion Show hosted for their benefit at their clubhouse on Druid Park Dr. Sunday, May 8 (Mother's Day) are (L to R) Charles Stith, corresponding secretary; Lonnie Jackson, president; Charles Paylor, financial secretary; Ronald Hudgins, first vice president and Bernard Darrian.

The National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., was founded in 1935 by a group of Negro Women who were owners and managers of businesses, college graduates and licensed women. The Baltimore Chapter was founded in 1941. Today it is a widespread organization whose clubs have grown to be a viable force throughout the United States, Bermuda and Africa.

The purposes for which the group is formed are to promote and protect the interests of business and professional women, to create and develop opportunities for Negro women in businesses and in the professions, and to use their special talents to provide services to the community.

WEST VIRGINIA STATE COLLEGE ALUMNI LUAU

The Charm City Chapter, West Virginia State College Alumni, Inc. has planned its annual Hawaiian Luau for Sunday, May 22.

The proceeds from the annual Sunday afternoon dance are used to support the scholarship program of West VA State College.

Students from the Baltimore, MD area are given preference for the Chapter's Scholarship Aid. The Charm City Chapter members are very interested in assisting graduating seniors in receiving information regarding the aid programs provided by West VA State College, located along the beautiful Kanawha River in Institute, WV.

This year the Luau will again be held at the Palladium. Many Baltimoreans and alumni from other chapters along the East Coast are expected to attend.

A feature of the luau is the serving of the roasted pig, which is traditional at Hawaiian Luaus.

The Luau is the major fundraiser for the Charm City Chapter's Scholarship Aid Program. The president of the Charm City Chapter is Ms. Joan Crawford.

AIDS

The Baltimore County Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., has joined the fight against AIDS. The chapter, in conjunction with, the AIDS Administration Minority Outreach Program of the Maryland State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene conducted an AIDS education workshop on April 30, 1988.

Chapter President Ernestine Jolivet opened the workshop by expressing the Chapter's commitment to provide on-going health oriented forums to the community.

A DREAM COME TRUE

The early bird really does catch the worm. Last week Evelyn Barnes, a Giant Store Deli clerk, crawled out of bed at 5 in the morning in preparation for a telephone call she hoped to place in answer to Radio V-103's Power Check give-away. If they called one of her winning check numbers she wanted to be the first one to call the studio.

After a two hour wait, she couldn't believe she was hearing right when V-103's Jean Ross and Randy Dennis called one of the check numbers she had received in the mail. The stakes were high, $10,000 (ten thousand dollars) and Evelyn was fearful that she would not be the first one to call. The studio telephone rang about 14 times before someone answered and proclaimed her the winner of the jackpot prize.

Then followed the screaming and wake up call to her sleeping sister, Glinda Conway who works as a certification technician for the Social Security Administration. They hugged and cried and began telephoning other members of the close-knit family who will share in her good fortune which believe it or not fell on the day of her 15 year old sons birthday. HAPPY! HAPPY! BIRTHDAY.

CCB HAPPENINGS

When Esther Rolle, the actress visited the Community College of Baltimore (Harbor Campus) recently, the Citizens Celebrating Baltimore under the direction of Hugh Carey presented her with roses and brought tears of joy to her eyes with their rendition of her favorite song "How Great Thou Art."

The gracious lady of television fame talked with about 150 students from the Dunbar Elementary School who joined CCB English Majors in an intimate fireside type conversation. Some of the students entertained by reading excerpts from Shakespeare as well as passages from original poems created by them.

CITY HALL HAPPENINGS

Congratulations to the Baltimore, Maryland Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sororities, Inc. for their recognition of the contributions of female members of the Baltimore City Council.

Mary Pat Clarke, City Council president, Jacqueline McLean, Vice president, Vera Hall, Iris Reeves, Sheila Dixon-Smith, Rochelle "Rikki" Spector and Agnes Welch were all recipients of the Verda Freeman Welcome Legislative Award early this week during a reception in City Hall. Former City Councilwomen Mary B. Adams, Victorine Adams and Barbara Mikulski were also honorees. Rebecca E. Carroll is president of the Baltimore Chapter.

OLDIES BUT GOODIES – A SMASHING SUCCESS

The Columbia Chapter of Club DeJouir presented its annual fundraiser at the Ellicott City Armory recently.

The dress attire was your choice, be it casual, semi or dressy, whichever the guest chose surely did please the ladies of the chapter. What a beautiful crowd of more than 500 guests who were eager to form a Madison Line and do the Twist. Those two old dances did not work too well with some of the older crowd. I hear that there were a few backaches and leg pains after the affair. (CUFF NOTE) Too bad that some still think that they are 18 years of age. Now don't you know that one could take!!!!!!

Seen among the atirees were designer jeans, big blousy tops and sweaters and sneakers with designer labels. Some wore sporty suits, casual skirts and even fancy jogging outfits. Speaking of fun, all the guests did indeed "LET THEIR HAIR DOWN" and wanted to continue the party even after the disc jockey had played the last number. Chairperson for the affair was Nancy Kensler.

Can you believe that one Club member sold almost 75 tickets. Congratulations go to new Club member Gladys Bush. She and husband Bill have shared their fun with the Club for about two years, so have the Rotans, Connie and Jim. Last but not least are Gertie and Ira Snell. These three newcomers to the Columbia Club have all made great contributions and are assets to the club.

A hearty welcome back to Ethel Hill who took a leave of absence from Club activities to earn the Juris Doctor Degree.

COLUMBIA CHAPTER OFF TO RICHMOND MEETING

Those fun-loving ladies of the Columbia Chapter chartered a van and drove down to Richmond, VA to attend the executive meeting of Club DeJouir. Chauffeurs for the day were Gertie Snell and Ethel Hill. They were joined by the six others chapters, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Petersburg, Washington and Richmond, for the Annual Executive Meeting.

The Columbia Chapter, host for the National Conclave in June, presented the meeting with information regarding the theme, time, place activities, etc. about the conclave. Our presentation was superbly done by Conclave General Chairlady Maurine McKinley. She was assisted by Lorraine Dorsey, Chairperson for special activities. A film was presented capturing each Columbia Chapter member as she visited the various continents of the world.

"LET'S GO INTERNATIONAL" is the theme for the "88 National Conclave."

CONCLAVE ITINERARY

The Club DeJouir Chapters attending the Conclave will arrive at a lush tropical island where they will wine and dine at a dinner befitting royalty. Local entertainers will provide a festive mood with song and dance.

An overnight flight will land them in Geneva for a morning business meeting, followed by a short flight to Paris where they will lunch and witness a fashion show.

On Saturday night the group will frolic with visitors from all over the world, some in their native attire, at an International Dinner and Ball.

Before the chapters leave for home on Sunday there will be more excitement and pleasure at the Farewell Brunch which will feature an array of exotic foods and many pleasant surprises.

The Columbia Inn will be the site of Club DeJouir's National Conclave 1988 from June 24 through June 27.
