IN THE STARS / STRICTLY PERSONAL

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Check your budget, a dilemma needs to be resolved. Your concern about domestic relations is warranted. This minor crisis, however, will not harm you despite delays and postponements. A change of course is indicated. Sharing unwanted task on the job will win friends and an easier more balanced disposition.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Take advantage of this period to get on a more solid emotional and financial foundation. Romance is eminent. Be diplomatic in your contacts. Close communication in the home lead to increased harmony and emotional security. With the addition of flowers and music in the home environment, greater balance and emotional harmony affect a joyous mood early in the week.

LEO (July 23-August 22): Domestic affairs are at the forefront. A change in lifestyle is highlighted. Don't give up something of value in exchange for nothing but know when to say goodbye. Budget wisely that limited funds will adequately support your regal life style. By weekend, love unfolds into joyous activity shared with Sagittarius, Aquarius or Aries.

VIRGO (August 23-September 22): Your head is full of beautiful dreams, but dreams don't solve problems. Concentrate on reality and you will get the rewards you deserve. Your desire for mental and physical efficiency may well be aided through increased exercise and a more natural dietary regimen. Mental support flows from Capricorn, Pisces and Taurus.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22): Your diligence and dedication pay handsome dividends. Get those little jobs out of the way so you'll have time for contemplation of the future. Analytical introspection may lead you to a greater realization of your talents. This week will bring you abundant energy. Be careful not to gamble it away.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21): Keep your eye on the larger picture, the smaller one can wait. Don't brood over past mistakes; just don't repeat them. Make the most of what you have. Success and public acclaim come through diligent work without thought of recompence. Early week, friends of refinement and status gather as your social mindedness increases.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 21): Your creative juices are flowing but a bright idea needs refining before it is presented. Go along with the wishes of others while taking a good look at yourself. There's always room for improvement. Don't let an unkind statement by someone you love throw you. They don't mean to be unkind. Next week you are likely to experience a strong downturn in your affairs. Adjust your plans accordingly.

CAPRICORN (December 22-January 19): Don't force issues if you want cooperation. Group discussion is the best way to accomplish your objectives. Take care of your responsibilities. Biased and critical judgements concerning religion and philosophy may cause arguments which might tend to lessen public esteem. Balance and fairness cause a return of public favor.

AQUARIUS (January 20-February 18): Social ties to career advancement follow through on proposals. A friendship is strenghtened. Let others know what your ambitions are. Affecting a group presence to secure the uplight of those less fortunate is your activity of the present. Stress caused by preoccupation with love affairs and money may be properly balanced through a search through archaic records.

PISCES (February 19-March 20): Expand your horizons through education. Don't let your temper disrupt your entire schedule. Change a home situation to provide peace of mind for all involved. Hiding from problems and over sensitivity may strain your relationship. Greater love and spirituality flows to you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Follow through on a hunch, your tuition is on target. Orders from the top are subject to change; keep your options open. Avoid an early week confrontation with partner in order to create a more positive flow of the fruits of partnership. Don't take a career setback too seriously. Pick up the pieces and regroup.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Some confusion in agreements or contracts is likely, but details will be unraveled. Don't rush to sign on the dotted line. Focus is on reunion with a loved one. In order to achieve the greatest economy, stay clear of speculative ventures and do not overspend on lovers and children.

Tell it to Jan

Dear Jan:
I am 15 and seven months pregnant. My boyfriend, the father of my baby is 19. Recently he has been acting strange and I don't know what is really going on.

He says he is not going to take care of the baby. I love him very much and I don't know why he's acting so funny. He doesn't come to see me anymore.

Do you think he will give me another chance?

T.R.

Dear 'R.:
Frankly my dear, I can't say he will give you another chance. But now that a baby is on the way, you should get your priorities straight. Your boyfriend can be made to support the child if you file necessary papers.

I find it sad when a couple has a baby before they are ready to settle down. The baby of such unions has little chance of growing up with both parents and often becomes another statistic on the welfare roll.

Dear Jan:
I am an 82-year-old male who is disgusted with my 83-year-old friend who is a widower.

He met a woman 20 years his junior and they have been living together for some time. Recently they broke up and he met another lady, 43.

This 43-year-old-lady gets everything he has. He gives her all of his money, pays all the rent and just bought her a car.

I think he is acting very foolish and I tried to tell him, but he will not listen. Maybe if he reads this letter, he will wise up.

H. P.

Dear H. P.:
For your sake, I hope he reads it!

Dear Jan:
After my husband died. I became good friends with John, a neighbor. Soon we fell in love.

When John asked his wife for a separation, she tried to commit suicide. He says they had been married in name only for ten years.

She has a good job and John offered her the house, the car and all money. But she still says if he leaves her, she will be dead in less than a week. This has him so scared that he can't do anything.

Our plans for a life together are destroyed, and John is trapped. Meanwhile, his wife holds it over his head.

She no longer cooks, cleans or does the laundry. She just sits in her room. What can I do?

C. R.

Dear C. R.:
Absolutely nothing. She is John's wife and his problems, so my advice is to steer clear of the whole thing. She is obviously a very disturbed lady and needs help that neither you nor John can give her.

But there's a question lurking in the back of my mind. If, as John says, they have been married in "name only" for so long, why is she so distraught at the possibility of a divorce?

Confidential to Martha:
If you have doubts now, then don't bother. They will only multiply later.
