Children's Home hosts annual Bull Roast

The Children's Home Annual Bull Roast will be held on Saturday, June 4, from 1-4 p.m. on the grounds of The Home: 205 Bloomsbury Avenue in Catonsville.

This year's Bull Roast is a special one, because The Children's Home will be celebrating its 125 Anniversary. Founded in 1863 as a home for Civil War orphans from Baltimore's German community. The Home now cares for children from every race and religion who suffers from parental neglect and abuse.

A smorgasbord-style feast — complete with charcoal beef, bar-b-qued chicken, homemade crab soup, German-style sauerbraten, and more — will be served. Live blue grass music by "The Blue Ridge Mountaineers," a live auction, flea market and games will make the Bull Roast a fun-filled afternoon for families. The Oriole Bird and some members of the Washington Bullets will also be there to join in the festivities. Call 744-7310.

How the Lyons twins engineer their own reality.

Early on Marnie Lyons taught her twins, Vincent and Elliot, a very important lesson: Life only gives you what you have the courage to demand. So they demanded excellence.

And they got it, from themselves and from others. That's why they were able to graduate from a small town high school in Wynne, Arkansas to a full scholarship in engineering at Southern University, in Baton Rouge, LA. It's also why General Motors is paying for that scholarship and providing them with challenging summer jobs through the GM internship program.

Looking toward the future, General Motors has made a commitment to community development. It's the reason we invest in promising young people like Vincent and Elliot by establishing scholarships at minority colleges and universities across the country. It's also the reason why we have 12.3 billion dollars in property damage insurance managed by minority insurance brokers.

At General Motors we realize that standing behind the people who buy our Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks, Cadillacs and GMC Trucks is more than just a corporate responsibility—it's good business.
