Jesse and Dukakis meet to smooth their differences

By Anne Saker

ATLANTA — Michael Dukakis and Jesse Jackson held a "very, very good" face-to-face summit today, hours before the opening of the 40th National Democratic Convention, but Dukakis said "no deal" was struck with the civil rights leader.

Dukakis, the three-term Massachusetts governor, and Jackson, the fiery leader of Democratic insurgents, indicated, however, that the breach between them that threatened the convention with political war had been repaired.

Frank Robinson now home

By Alisa Samuels
AFRO Staff Writer

Baltimore Orioles manager Frank Robinson, who underwent surgery Saturday morning to remove a painful ruptured disk, is listed in satisfactory condition and is expected to go home this week.

Robinson, 53, was admitted to Johns Hopkins Hospital July 15 for black pains.

"He decided the only way to get relief was to have surgery," said Helen Conkling, an Orioles spokeswoman.

America's first black baseball manager was also hospitalized in May for back troubles.

Robinson is expected to go home today or Wednesday to recuperate and return to work in about two weeks, Conkling said.

Conkling said Robinson walked around Sunday.

Elrod Hendricks is the team's acting manager, while Robinson is out.

Berlin, MD NAACP march in 100° heat

By Alicia Benjamin
AFRO Staff Writer

In temperatures which reached over 100 degrees Sunday, about 100 black protesters on the Eastern Shore participated in a voters rights march, voicing their dissatisfaction with the way council members are chosen in their town.

For five years, black residents and representatives from the Worcester County branch of the NAACP had attempted to change voting procedures in Berlin from at large elections of Town Council members, to voting by a four-district system.

Earlier this year, the council adopted the district system only to have it challenged by white members of the small community.

About 280 white residents, signed a petition to call the new system before voters in a referedum in a special election on July 28. Opponents of the district system needed 240 votes to bring the voting system before voters in a referendum.

David Honig, attorney for the Worcester County branch NAACP, said the signatures were examined, and all those who signed were white residents of the town.

"We intend to win that election," said Honig. "We're pretty well organized and we do intend to win it."

Honig said white residents in the town fear a black majority on the town council if the four-district system is adopted, since blacks hold a majority in two of the districts.

Of the 2,700 residents of Berlin, about 900 or one-third of the population is black.

In addition to holding on to the initial adoption of the district system, Berlin blacks are also seeking to change the requirement to register separately for town elections;

To disallow non-resident property owners to vote in their elections; and create a

Walbrook High closing causes a mother's tears

By Jill P. Carter
AFRO Staff Writer

She successfully saw her son through 11 years of public school education, but the recent school board decision to consolidate Walbrook Senior High School with Southwestern High School has Beverly Reid a little nervous.

"I'm really concerned about him completing those last 180 days," Ms. Reid said. "When he first heard of the decision, he didn't want to go back."

The decision to consolidate the schools was proposed by an education task force headed by superintendent Alice G. Pinderhughes, which was called to find an immediate solution to Walbrook's $10 million asbestos abatement problem.

Walbrook was forced to close abruptly before the end of the school year, leaving Reid's son, Rodey Sanders, along with the rest of the student body and faculty without a school home.

In September, Walbrook and Southwestern will operate from the same building, but run as separate high schools. The administration projects a combined enrollment of 2,175 students.

"While this number exceeds the ideal capacity, they believe it is within the building's functional limits."

Southwestern students will report to school from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Walbrook students will report from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Ms. Reid, who also has a

Leland to seek Sen. seat

By Janice M. Magona
NNPA Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D.C.— While the halls of Congress rang with the eleventh-hour announcement that Senator Lloyd Bentsen (D-TX) had been selected by Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis as his running mate, staff aides were hovering in Congressman Mickey Lelands (D-TX) office over rumors that he may seek the would-be vacant senate seat.

Responding to speculation Leland stated, "I am definitely interested in the seat and am currently talking to several key people."

According to a top staff aide, "the office is buzzing about Mickey possibly running for Bentsen's seat. It's still early in the game, and by law Bentsen has the right to retain his seat."

In 1959, the Texas State Legislator passed legislation which allowed a member of the Senate to retain his/her seat when running for the presidency or vice presidency of the United States.

In the event that the senator wins the nomination, the Governor of the state would

Is cable TV ready for the KKK?

By Darryl Elwood Owens
AFRO Staff Writer

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The Ku Klux Klan and the White Aryan Resistance have shed their bedsheets for cue cards—preferring instead to broadcast their ageless messages of hate through the wonders of television and radio.

Hate groups have attempted to commandeer the public access cable television airwaves across the United States, notably in Florida and Missouri, in what is becoming a growing problem, according to Federal Communications Commission (FCC) officials.

"Unless what is said is not protected by the First Amendment or falls under the purview of obscenity, the FCC has no authority in public access broadcasting," said Richard Kalb, cable television spokesperson for the FCC.

John A. Sharpe, a member of the City Council, said that industry statistics have charted over 50 markets throughout the country where hate groups are spreading their racist tenets on public access cable — at practically no cost.

In the District of Columbia, District Cablevision is scheduled to complete installation of cable television throughout the city by 1991, according to its spokesman Joe Machado.

As with other cities where cable is available, public access television will also become an alternative soapbox for District residents,he said.

Kalb noted that groups such as the Ku Klux Klan generally target public access television due to the absence of censorship.

"Usually this kind of programming will occur on the Public Access Channels, which the FCC used to be involved in before 1979," Kalb said.

Kalb alluded to the 1979 U.S. Supreme Court decision that negated the FCC's policy of putting "common carrier" requirements —
