Smile orchids

Smile-of-the-week orchids to Neil Edwards. He's the Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. eight-year employee who has an extra pleasant manner as he works. He is a merchandise deliveryman. We watched him at work as he moved the old refrigerator which had given up after 20 faithful years and installed a new one.

Mr. Edwards is a member of Wayland Baptist Church. Family includes wife, Ferne, a supervisor at the House of Good Shepherd, and their son, Neil Jr., 17, a Forest Park High student.

And salute to another G and E employee whom we watched work in a professional manner, with a friendly smile — Moses Wiggins, the refrigeration specialist who has been with the company 18 years.

He's member of Friendship Baptist Church. He and wife, Ernestine, a CCB secretary, have two sons, Roland, 23, and Jamal, 10.

More Orchids

Orchids to Dr. Denise Allen, a pharmacist at the busy Garwyn Medical Center on Garrison Blvd., where her calm voice and sincere smile are tops. She does part-time duty there and works regularly at D.C. General. She belongs to New Frontiers of Faith Baptist Church.

Lots of sunshine in the voice of Mrs. Doris Abrams, a Social Service state employee, who keeps busy working at Bethel AME Church, where she is in charge of the Daniel Payne Scholarship Committee luncheon-fashion show set for Nov. 5.

We observed Mrs. Abrams on Saturday, when she was among guests at annual picnic sponsored by Baltimore chapter of Frontiers.

More people met with smiles in their manner and their voices — Mr. and Mrs. Lester Davis (Helen), the caterers, whose Johnnycake Rd., residence was the scene of the gathering.

Also, Mrs. Gloria J. Banks, the retired Social Security employee and widow of former Frontier prexy, Bill Banks. She's a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Editor's Note: Did someone's smile make your day? Send her or him orchids through Smiles, If You Ask Me, Baltimore AFRO-AMERICAN, P.O. Box 1857, Baltimore, Md., 21202, and smile, please.

About people

Prayers, please, for Henry G. Parks, the founder and chairman of the board of Parks Sausage Co. He's in intensive care at Hopkins Hospital, where he has been confined a month.

It's a boy—their first—for Dr. and Mrs. W. Wade Mumby, (Sherrene). William Christopher weighed in at 7 lbs., 1 oz., on August 11, at Sinai Hospital. Also happy about the arrival—older sister, Yesmine, 2, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mumby (Mattie) and Dr. Shirley Clinton of Baltimore; and great grands, Mrs. Virgie Lawson of our town, and Mrs. Pearl Holeman of Asbury Park, N.J.

Baltimore medical wives win honors at the National Medical Association convention in Los Angeles last week—Mrs. H. Garland Chissell, (Robbie), was elected Member of the Year for her outstanding work as head of the city, state and national medical auxiliary.

And, Mrs. Elroy Young (Mabel), received award for heading the Baltimore auxiliary, voted outstanding of the year.

Attractive couple — the recently wed William H. Murphys, Jr., (Kim). When we talked to her a week ago she was busy as could be, only paused long enough to confirm the two honeymooned in Paris.

Bride is a Baltimorean, the former Kimberly Roberts, daughter of Lyle Robertses (Margaret Mason) granddaughter of the late podiatrist, Dr. Joseph Mason and Mrs. Sarah Bolling Mason and Mrs. Luvenia King.

Mr. Murphy, son of the senior William H. Murphys, (Madeline), is a former Supreme Bench judge like his father, onetime candidate for mayor, and attorney noted for his legal skills.

Last month, he and three other lawyers won a huge settlement of class action suit they filed on behalf of over 400 low-income homeowners against a trio of home improvement firms and related businesses.

Little Miss Ivy

The recent Little Miss Ivy Pageant sponsored by Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority's Omicron Gamma Omega Chapter in Glen Burnie was a joy.

Girls, ages 5 to 12, participated in a talent and modeling show. There were appreciative smiles and applause for these winners:

Kim Wingate, 9, crowned Little Miss Ivy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James 'Wingate of Greensboro, N.C.;

1st runner-up, Jennifer Jordan, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jordan of Severna Park; and 2nd runner-up, Rebecca Neal, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Neal, of Charlotte Hall.

Other participants were: Yvette Adams,10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Adams, Baltimore; Maurika Colbert, 5, daughter of Ms. Kim Makell and Maurice Colbert, of Annapolis;

And Kia Kellam, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kellam, of Baltimore; Aimee Wiggs, 11, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Wiggs, Upper Marlboro; and Candace Kellam, granddaughter of Mrs. Gwendolyn Kellam, Baltimore.

IF YOU ASK ME

The leaders

Last year's winner, Inga Pritchett crowned this year's little princess.

Mrs. Mary Louise Capers is chapter president. Program chair was Mrs. Charlotte Armstead who coordinated the program which highlighted black women heroines and models dressed in their attire.

Member, Dorothy Green, presided, and presented participants including piano music by Ty'n Thonotossa;

Chapter members have several community service projects—notably, awards scholarships annually to two high school seniors, provides tutorial service to a summer literacy program.

The sorority's energetic North Atlantic Regional Director, Mrs. Idell Pugh, of Baltimore, was among guests. Event was at Fontaine Bleu.

More people

Raymond Boone, the Howard U. journalism prof., was released Wednesday from Union Memorial Hospital after a two-week stay. Wife Jean, said she's glad they'll be able to to to Atlanta to enroll daughter, Regina, 18, in Spelman College.

Thinking-of-you cards to the family of Charles W. Fletcher, Sr. He was the 90-year-old educator who died Saturday after a long illness.

Funeral services were Wednesday (Aug. 17), at Sharp St. United Methodist Church. He was a lifetime Methodist lay leader as his father before him.

Mr. Fletcher will be remembered by former students and associates as an outstanding and dedicated educator, who was "kind, sincere and gentle," and was "sensitive to the hopes, concerns, dreams and plans of others."

He used these distinguished qualities in his long career as principal in Annapolis, Md., where he was born, and later in Baltimore County, where he served as principal of Banneker High in Catonsville, Bragg High, Sparrows Point, and Sollers Point High in Dundalk. He earned special awards for his leadership in smooth integration at his schools.

Survivors: Wife, Mrs. Sallie E. Fletcher; son, Charles W. Fletcher, Jr., 5, grandchildren, and six great grands.

Mel Bolden, the noted Baltimore-born artist, now of Concord, New Hampshire, is in town. He made funeral arrangements for his mother, Mrs. Mary Reed Bolden. She died Friday at Maryland General Hospital. She was 96.

She was the widow of J. Percy Bolden, a former AFRO pressman. After his retirement from this newspaper, he and Mrs. Bolden operated a confectionary store at Riggs and Carey Sts., in West Baltimore, and before that a hand laundry on Carey St.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bolden were Wednesday evening (Aug. 17), at Sharon Baptist Church, where she was for many years the assistant pianist and organist.

Survivors: The son, Mr. Bolden; and cousins, Bernard and Askew Bolden of Baltimore.

Lacy on EBW

Recommended reading: AFRO Sports Editor Sam Lacy's tribute to Baltimore Oriole owner, Edward Bennett Williams, who was memoralized on Tuesday.

In his tribute published on page one of this newspaper's August 16 issue, Lacy called Williams Edward IV.

He explained: he was not royalty, yet he was of royal quality in the realm of racial consciousness.
