Payne Memorial moves into its new edifice

Sunday, April 2, members of Payne Memorial marched from the Masonic Temple in the 1300 block of Eutaw Place to their newly completed edifice at Madison Avenue and Laurens Street.

The church had been worshipping at the Temple from Easter Sunday, April 3, 1988 until Easter Sunday of 1989.

The march was led by members of the National Guard. Those elderly persons who could not march were led by a police escort in a parade of cars.

It was a chilly, sunny spring Sunday morning, but many came out to be a part of church history in the making.

The ceremonial ribbon cutting and prayer were observed. The church is one that is reaching out to all, the young and the elderly.

Mrs. Eleanor Randall, one of the oldest members, and little Keisha Beckett, one of the youngest members held the large blue scissors to cut the ceremonial blue ribbon.

The doors were opened to allow the parishoners and visitors into the sanctuary to worship for the very first service. The blue and white color scheme is emphasized throughout the church.

The church was filled to capacity for its first service. More than 600 persons were in attendance. Reverend Howard L. Camper, the pastor, took his text from the 53rd chapter of Isaiah, verses 1 and 2.

The cornerstone laying service was in the afternoon. Bishop H. Hartford Brookins, prelate of the Second Episcopal District preached the sermon.

Rev. Frank M. Reid, III of Bethel A.M.E. Church presided over the services. Again the church was filled to overflow capacity.

The Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Maryland officers and members performed the outside Cornerstone Laying Ceremony. They had accepted to "lay the stone" for the new church.

Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church has gone through many stages. It was organized the 2nd of July 1897 by Bishop James A. Handy.

Reverend James A. Briscoe brought the church from Calhoun and Laurens Streets to the present site at Madison Avenue and Laurens Street in 1927.

Reverend C. Baker Pearle burned the mortgage in November 1943 for the old building.

Not since 1848 has an A.M.E. church been erected new in Baltimore City proper. In that year, Ebenezer A.M.E. Church wa built. The new Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church is the first A.M.E. church built in Baltimore City proper in more than 100 years.

General Workshops

1. Displaying My Artistic Gifts
For creative persons (professionals or amateurs) who may be grappling with many issues. Are you "sitting on" your talent? Can you find the time to share your gifts with the Church? Does the Church provide avenues for expressing your particular talent? Are you caught between the pressure to satisfy the world's commercialism and the desire to dedicate your talent to God? (Is it possible to do both?) Does the light of the Holy Spirit shine wherever your artistic talent takes you?
tistic talent takes you?

Explore issues and techniques for educating our youth to insure academic and spiritual empowerment. Engage in frank dialogue between educators, students and parents about strategies for overcoming obstacles to the development of young persons.

3. African American Men — Reclaiming Our Legacy
As African American Christian males, how do we assume leadership positions in the Church, community and family? What is God saying to men? Together men will identify and tackle obstacles to their full development in Christ.
