IF YOU ASK ME

Smile Orchids

Smile orchids to Mrs. Ethel Jones. She's the very pleasant Presstman St. resident who volunteers her time at the Waxter Center for senior citizens. Many know her for her long service as senior health aid supervisor with the city's health department. And, orchids to another smiling health aid, Mrs. Aurelia Croslin. She's been with the city health department aging division for 23 years.

* * *

Plenty of sunshine in the voices of these Mervo High School students whom we watched help a distressed driver stuck in traffic on Friday—Rodney Perdue, 17-year-old senior; Gregory Murphy, 16, and Richard Beasley, 17. All right, they stopped and pushed the car to the filling station - truly good neighbors.

* * *

Lots of orchids to Mrs. Edna G. Johnson, whom many remember as an inspiring city school principal. She marked her 97th birthday on April 10. On Sunday, she was among Grace Presbyterian Church members honored.

And to Dennis Dorsey. He's the 20-year-old Morgan State University sophomore who impressed guests with his extra friendly manner when he greeted guests arriving for the university's gala at the Palladium a Friday ago. He hails from Odenton, Md., wants to be a civil engineer.

Orchids to Arthur Snowden, the affable photographer who is district director of Frontiers International. Second district members from N.C., Va., Pa., Del., Md. and D.C., gather at Howard Inn in Washington this weekend—April 21-23.

More Smiles

Smile orchids to Dr. Rita J. Colwell. She's the highly respected director of the U. of Md. Biotechnology Institute Center of Marine Biotechnology.

We watched her preside with grace at the recent opening of the center's research facilities on the fifth floor of the Community College of Baltimore Bard Building in downtown Baltimore.

In attendance U.S., state and city officials, college presidents — CCB's Dr. Joseph Durham, W of M.'s Dr. John Toll, and Hopkins: Dr. Steven Muller, who observed this was the first time the colleges have cooperated on such a project.

Mayor Kurt Schmoke saw the opening as another indication that the city is ready to move into the next century and can be known as the city that reads and the city that researches.

* * *

Persons with sunshine in their voices spied in the crowd:—Mrs. Bernadette Garner, the center's purchasing agent. She's a product of Forest Park and CCB and attends St. Ambrose Church. Mrs. Tyra Burman, an office secretary, is a member of St. John AME Church. Mrs. Gladys Jones, also an office secretary, is associate minister of Rising Sun Baptist Church.

And, personable Peter Marudas, a member of Mayor Schmoke's staff and Dr. Thomas R. Hubbard, chair of CCB's science and math department.

Editor's Note: Did someone's smile make your day? Help us salute them. Write Smiles, If You Ask Me, Baltimore AFRO - AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. 21201, and smiles, please.

Sad Notes
